The Problem of Political Identity - The Meaning of Great Projects Politics in Contemporary Russia Anatoly Reshetnikov, 2010-07-19 Master's Thesis from the year 2010 in the subject Politics Region Russia grade A Central European University Budapest language English abstract The problem of political identity is one of the most topical issues in constructivist IR theory The understanding of identity construction as well as the adequate interpretation of its foreign policy implications can help explain the meanings behind the actions of major international actors The work deals with the problem of political identity in contemporary Russia by engaging with and extending the temporal scope of the constructivist analysis conducted by Ted Hopf in his book Social Construction of International Politics It suggests that the great projects politics of contemporary Russia which is linked to the specificity of its political identity and seems to be similar to that of the late Soviet period can in fact be better understood if another work on Russian identity The Ethics of Postcommunism History and Social Praxis in Russia by Sergei Prozorov is also taken into account Hopf's analysis while providing a valuable theoretical framework and linking the state's identity to the great power status does not trace the evolution of the latter status and confines itself to two years of Russia's development namely 1955 and 1999 Prozorov's book while thoroughly analyzing the identity of contemporary Russian state is limited within the domestic realm and fails to address the idea of great power which Hopf believes to be an integral part of Russian political discourse and which is possible to interpret only if the analysis extends beyond national borders The research incorporates Prozorov's theoretical contribution into the framework of Hopf thus merging the mentioned approaches and making them applicable to the contemporary Russian condition both domestically and within IR thinker and practitioner whose influence on alternative worship and emerging church forms has spread worldwide Whatever our church tradition liturgical evangelical charismatic or alternative Mark's challenge is clear tired patterns of worship do not engage with people beyond the regular congregation and sometimes not even with them The last place that many genuine spiritual seekers would try is church He shows a way of thinking about and practicing worship where real connection with God can happen The idea of curating rather than leading worship invites a potentially huge mind shift about worship practice Leading worship is not about staying in control of content or delivery but about exploring creatively the riches of our traditions the arts our buildings music and language to offer worship that better reflects the glory of God This inspiring practical book raises the bar in terms of what we expect from worship and then gives us the courage vision and resources to bring it about Index to Selected Outdoor Recreation Literature: Citation item number 60001-60991, covering calendar year 1966 United States.
