One Irish Summer William Eleroy Curtis, 2020-09-28 For those who have never spent a summer in Ireland there remains a delightful experience for no country is more attractive unless it be Japan and no people are more genial or charming or courteous in their reception of a stranger or more cordial in their hospitality The American tourist usually lands at Queenstown runs up to Cork rides out to Blarney Castle in a jaunting car and across to Killarney with a crowd of other tourists on the top of a big coach then rushes up to Dublin spends a lot of money at the poplin and lace stores takes a train for Belfast glances at the Giant's Causeway and then hurries across St George's Channel for London and the Continent Hundreds of Americans do this each year and write home rhapsodies about the beauty of Ireland But they have not seen Ireland No one can see Ireland in less than three months for some of the counties are as different as Massachusetts and Alabama Six weeks is scarcely long enough to visit the most interesting places The railway accommodations the coaches the steamers and other facilities for travel are as perfect as those of Switzerland The hotels are not so good and there will be a few discomforts here and there to those who are accustomed to the luxuries of London and Paris but they can be endured without ruffling the temper simply by thinking of the manifold enjoyments that no other country can produce And Ireland is particularly interesting just now because of the mighty forces that are engaged in the redemption of the people from the poverty and the wretchedness in which a large proportion of them have been submerged for generations No government ever did so much for the material welfare of its subjects as Great Britain is now doing for Ireland and the improvement in the condition of affairs during the last few years has been extraordinary In order to observe and describe this economic evolution the author spent the summer of 1908 visiting various parts of the island and has endeavored to narrate truthfully what he saw and heard This volume contains the greater part of a series of letters written for The Chicago Record Herald and also published in The Evening Star of Washington The Times of St Louis and other American papers By permission of Mr Frank B Noyes editor and publisher of The Chicago Record Herald and to gratify many readers who have asked for them they are herewith presented in permanent form
