One World Divisible A Global History Since 1945:

One World Divisible David Reynolds, 2015-09-24 The second half of the twentieth century was dominated by the unfolding drama of the Cold War from the Berlin blockade to the fall of the Berlin Wall A booming global economy has had its sinister shadow in the apparently insoluble crises that have beset much of the Third World Above all peace in the West has been offset by wars of unbelievable murderousness elsewhere Reynolds account is both an overview of the trends underlying this spectacular and awful variety and an insight into the lives led in its midst Global Century Series One World Divisible David Reynolds, 2001-03-06 A magisterial account of our time by a distinguished historian Walter LaFeber prize winning author of The Clash Global change has accelerated at an unprecedented pace in the last half century The trajectory of change points in different directions with the world growing at once more interconnected and more fragmented Commerce and migrations television and the World Wide Web suggest a story of growing interconnection while at the same time the proliferation of nation states and the divisions rooted in religion race and material inequality tell of separation and conflict David Reynolds s brilliant history captures both themes and grounds them vividly in the people and events of the last fifty years Reynolds captures the great political events the Cold War the Chinese revolution independence movements Vietnam and the fall of the Soviet Union and broader developments economic and population growth the spread of cities vast technological change genetic manipulation and the creation of a digital world Carefully avoiding an encyclopedic approach Reynolds integrates these themes into a narrative with authority vision and style A volume in the Global Century series books by outstanding scholars on the history of the world in the twentieth century general editor Paul Kennedy The World in the Long Twentieth Century Edward Ross Dickinson, 2018-02-06 The biological transformation of modern times The foundations of the modern global economy Reorganizing the global economy Localization and globalization The great explosion New world dis order High modernity Revolt and refusal Transformative modernity Democracy and capitalism triumphant The Cold War Robert J. McMahon, 2021 Vividly written and based on up to date scholarship this title provides an interpretive overview of the international history of the Cold War European Integration Since the 1920s Mark Hewitson, 2024-10-14 Brexit populism and Euroscepticism seem to have challenged old assumptions about European integration and raised the prospect of disintegration This book re examines why the European Union and its forerunners were created and investigates how and why they have changed It links contemporary events to historical explanation arguing that there were long term sets of conditions dating back to the 1920s which pushed European governments to cooperate economically and to try to resolve their diplomatic differences The failure of the French and German governments to create what Aristide Briand had called a European federal union demonstrated both the precariousness of the enterprise and its connection to the domestic politics of European states After 1945 the unexpected advent of a Cold War and the military diplomatic and economic presence of the United States in Europe facilitated the gradual development of habits of cooperation and institutional integration but they also placed limits on European governments activities as did disagreements between political parties and the expectations of citizens As a consequence supranational bodies such as the European Commission have been accompanied and often overshadowed by intergovernmental institutions such as the European Council with the EU as a whole functioning in important respects as a type of confederation The volume addresses a series of large scale historical questions which are integral to an understanding of the European Union It asks how and why citizens of member states have identified with the EU how matters of security affected the development of the European Community during and after the Cold War whether economic and social convergence have taken place and with what consequences and why European institutions have come to function as they have The study is thematic focusing on the most important aspects of European integration and explaining why member states have decided to carry out or have consented to the unique experiment of the European Union
