Postcolonial African Migration to the West Belachew Gebrewold, 2024-07-04 Postcolonial African migration to the West is not only a spatial movement in search of material and physical security but also an expression of the mimetic desire for being by imitating the West or whitening oneself against the background of the dehumanizing historical legacies of slavery colonialism and Western dominance It is a flight from oneself from perceived inadequacies To migrate to the West is an expression of the desire for being not through detachment from the fascinating West but rather through adoration and imitation of its lifestyle beauty ideals and soft and hard power and by living in the West The model the West builds ubiquitous anti migrant physical and virtual fences which the imitator tries to overcome The more the model re strengthens these fences the more the imitator tries to scale them The anti migrant fences are the meeting point of the model's perceived superiority admirability and desirability on the one hand and on the other hand the imitator's inferiority complex and inner tension between the paradoxical desire for detachment from the model and its passionate imitation at the same time This book argues that African migration to the West will continue even in the absence of poverty conflicts and climate change because it is also about the mimetic desire for being
