Exploring the Role of Social Media in Health Promotion Michael Stellefson, J. Don Chaney, Beth H.

Chaney, Samantha R. Paige, 2020-06-18 The use of social media in public health education promotion has been increasing due in part to its ability to remove physical access and geographical barriers for users. Specifically, social media provides an outlet to increase and promote translational health communication strategies and the effective dissemination of health information and data in ways that allow users to not only utilize but also to create and share pertinent health information. Although social media applications in public health and health promotion have yielded success in terms of generating support structures and networks for effective health behavior change, there are challenges and complications associated with use of social media that also need to be addressed, e.g., managing misinformation, ensuring compliance with privacy protection regulations. This Special Issue aims to explore social media as a translational health promotion tool by bridging principles of health education and health communication. Broadly, this Special Issue is seeking original submissions that examine 1) the method with which social media users access, negotiate, and create health information that is both actionable and impactful for diverse audiences; 2) strategies for overcoming challenges to using social media in health promotion; and 3) best practices for designing, implementing, and/or evaluating social media campaigns and forums in public health. Special interest will be given to innovative submissions that expand and build upon traditional health education approaches with health communication theories and models. Other manuscript types of interest include relevant position papers, brief reports, and commentaries.

Max Dutch Medford, 2023-01-16 Max By Dutch Medford The idea for this book came in the form of a dream that spurred the author into writing Max, a spellbinding tale of a man finding a 7' tall black metal statue and a small black box made of the same unique material in a debris mound in a strangely formed gulch in Colorado. Later, he discovers that the little black box was the power source that brought the statue to life. This is the story of David and Max's fearful first encounter and their eventual bond of friendship that leads the two to journey through the dark side of our Government's power and determination to capture the alien and David with the goal to discover and take possession of the two alien crafts hidden somewhere in a chamber in the Colorado mountains. This is book one of two books planned in this series. Warning: once you start reading this book, you will not want to put it down. Advertising and Promotion George Edward Belch, 2004 Pretty
