Game On Susan F. Paterno, 2021-06-15 Director of the Chapman journalism program and mother of four recent college grads Susan F. Paterno leads you through the admissions process to help you and your family make the best decision possible How is it possible that Harvard is more affordable for most American families than their local state university Or that up to half of eligible students receive no financial aid Or that public universities are rejecting homegrown middle and working class applicants and instead enrolling wealthy out of state

students College admission has escalated into a high stakes game of emotional and financial survival How is the deck stacked against you And what can you do about it Susan F Paterno a veteran academic and journalist answers these questions and more in Game On Paterno helped her four very different kids navigate the application process to a wide range of colleges paying for their four year educations on a finite budget She incisively decodes the college admission industry the consultants the tutors the rankers the branding companies hawking advantage and arms you with the knowledge you need to make the system work for you You ll learn how to narrow your focus analyze who gets in and why and look for the right financial fit before considering anything else including geography reputation and especially ranking Among the tools and insights in Game On Why forty years of failed free market policies have led to skyrocketing tuition and historic levels of student debt Why applying to college has become a bewildering maze and how to find your way to a successful result Why college costs are more terrifying than you think How to read beyond the rack rate to negotiate the best financial package with the least debt Why merit is a myth but merit aid is essential The difference between family debt and student debt and how to split it A playbook for the Hunger Games of higher education Game On explains the anxiety uncertainty and chaos in college admission explodes the myth of meritocracy exposes the academy s connection to America s widening gap between rich and poor and provides strategies to beat and reform a broken system

Unrivaled Jeff Goldberg, 2015-03-01 For twelve years the women s basketball rivalry between UConn and Tennessee was the most iconic matchup in women s sports Even now twenty years since the annual series started the competition between these two storied programs still provokes heated argument and bitter resentment Led by Hall of Fame coaches Geno Auriemma and Pat Summitt UConn and Tennessee combined for nine national championships with the UConn Huskies winning five including four against the Tennessee Lady Vols In all UConn won thirteen of twenty two matchups during the rivalry and along the way the two coaches with distinctive and brash personalities and a shared determination to rule their sport clashed privately and publicly generating enough heat to make women s basketball relevant in the national sports landscape as never before On the court the two teams produced a series of memorable games from overtime thrillers to timeless classics that defined the sport Off the court the coaches encounters were often marked by their seemingly genuine dislike for each other until the conflict reached a breaking point in 2007 and Summitt stunned the basketball world by canceling the series for reasons neither side has ever revealed Now eight years after the last game Unrivaled uncovers the on court and behind the scenes story of this intensely personal rivalry between coaches players and the two most passionate fan bases women s sports has ever known
