Natural Fiber Composites R.D.S.G. Campilho, 2015-11-05 This book brings value to anyone working with or designing natural fiber composite structures. It helps readers understand the value these materials can add to projects, how to choose the best materials and treatments, how to safely design and fabricate products made of natural fiber composites, and how to test them for safety. It covers the characterization of natural fibers, matrices, and respective composites, and how to enhance their performance and processing, as well as testing and degradation issues. Lignocellulosic Composite Materials Susheel Kalia, 2017-12-23 This book comprehensively summarizes important aspects of research in the active field of lignocellulosic polymer composites, including polymer materials from or containing cellulose, hemicellulose, and lignin. It describes how these materials can be produced from forest products and natural fibers from sources such as jute, flax, sisal, and many more, and even from agricultural residues like wheat straw, corn stover, or sugarcane bagasse. In times of high demand for renewable green materials, lignocellulosic materials from organic matter produced by trees, shrubs, and agricultural crops present a highly attractive feedstock. The international authors explain different treatment and fabrication methods for the production of lignocellulosic materials. Other chapters address the properties of these green materials or illustrate specific applications, ranging from food packaging and household products to adsorbents and even conductive polymer composites. In this way, this book offers a broad and comprehensive overview over the entire field of lignocellulosic composite materials.
