Act Practice Apple Watch Review:

A Commercial Law of Privacy and Security for the Internet of Things Stacy-Ann Elvy, 2021-07-29 Elvy explores the consumer ramifications of the Internet of Things through the lens of the commercial law of privacy and security

Algorithmic Marketing and EU Law on Unfair Commercial Practices Federico Galli, 2022-08-30 Artificial Intelligence AI systems are increasingly being deployed by marketing entities in connection with consumers interactions Thanks to machine learning ML and cognitive computing technologies businesses can now analyse vast amounts of data on consumers generate new knowledge use it to optimize certain processes and undertake tasks that were previously impossible Against this background this book analyses new algorithmic commercial practices discusses their challenges for consumers and measures such developments against the current EU legislative framework on consumer protection The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach building on empirical findings from AI applications in marketing and theoretical insights from marketing studies and combining them with normative analysis of privacy and consumer protection in the EU The content is divided into three parts The first part analyses the phenomenon of algorithmic marketing practices and reviews the main AI and AI related technologies used in marketing e g Big data ML and NLP The second part describes new commercial practices including the massive monitoring and profiling of consumers the personalization of advertising and offers the exploitation of psychological and emotional insights and the use of human like interfaces to trigger emotional responses The third part provides a comprehensive analysis of current EU consumer protection laws and policies in the field of commercial practices It focuses on two main legal concepts their shortcomings and potential refinements vulnerability understood as the conceptual benchmark for protecting consumers from unfair algorithmic practices manipulation the substantive legal measure for drawing the line between fair and unfair practices

Protecting EU Consumers in Internet of Things

Ecosystems Christof Koolen, 2025-10-21 The number of devices being connected to the internet is growing rapidly This trend referred to as the Internet of Things IoT reflects the gradual transformation of everyday objects into smart devices These smart devices are capable of collecting data from their surroundings and sharing that data over the internet As a result the development of the IoT raises extensive legal questions from a consumer protection perspective First the functionality of smart devices challenges consumer autonomy and the average consumer's ability to make well informed transactional decisions Second concerns remain about consumer choice as consumers can't easily switch due to interoperability limitations Third consumer privacy is threatened by the data driven nature of the IoT Protecting EU Consumers in Internet of Things Ecosystems explores solutions to these challenges by critically analyzing the interplay between EU consumer law EU competition law and EU data privacy law aiming to balance innovation and consumer protection in IoT ecosystems At a time when society must question how the benefits of IoT can be harnessed for the greater good rather than posing a threat to consumers businesses and governments this volume offers valuable insights for academics policymakers businesses and anyone interested in understanding the impact of technology on our daily lives To Invent Is Divine James R. Edwards, 2025-04-23 Christians generally know that God created the heavens and the earth and made human beings in his image They know that the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof he owns his creations They know that skilled people create and own marvelous works But a disconnect often occurs when it comes to God's communicable attributes of creativity and ownership and that combination's role in human innovation technological progress and practical benefits from human creativity and ownership To Invent Is Divine connects the dots between creativity and ownership as well as the dots between that combination and the fruits of human flourishing Current Law Index, 2007 O'Donnell's Drug Injury James J.
