Governance in "Cyberspace": Access and Public Interest in Global Communications Klaus Grewlich, 1999-11-09

Cyberspace is the emerging invisible intangible world of electronic information and processes stored at multiple interconnected sites. The digital revolution leads to convergence of telecommunications, computer, Internet and broadcasting and to dynamic multimedia value chains. Deregulation and competition are major driving forces in the new interactive electronic environment. This volume contains normative proposals for cyber regulation including self regulation grounded on developments in the EU, US and the Far East in international organisations WTO, OECD, WIPO, ITU, in business fora, in NGOs, in the Internet community and in academic research. The multi actor government, business, civil society and multi level analysis subsidiarity pertains, e.g. to ex ante and ex post access regulation, competition, network economics, external effects, essential facilities, public interest principles, human dignity, free speech, privacy, security, development and culture, consumer protection, cryptography, domain names and copyright. Lawyers, regulators, business executives, investment bankers, diplomats and civil society representatives need shared essentials of plurilateral governance to safeguard both competition and public interest objectives at a scale congruent to cyberspace in the transition to an international law of cooperation.
