Musings on Markets: Articles from 2020-2024 Aswath Damodaran, In the ever evolving world of finance clarity and insight are precious commodities Enter Professor Aswath Damodaran the mind behind the influential blog Musings on Markets This unassuming corner of the internet launched in 2008 serves as a platform for his insightful commentary on current financial events valuation methodologies and emerging trends Damodaran s ability to break down complex financial concepts into digestible terms has made him a beloved figure among investors and students Professor Damodaran or Aswath as he s affectionately known to his readers isn't your typical Wall Street guru. His writing is refreshingly devoid of jargon laced with wit and grounded in a passion for demystifying complex financial concepts. Think of Musings on Markets as your friendly neighborhood professor patiently explaining the intricate workings of financial markets through clear explanations, insightful analyses, and a healthy dose of real world examples. Aswath Damodaran is a distinguished professor of finance at the Stern School of Business, New York University. Renowned for his groundbreaking work in corporate finance and valuation, Damodaran has been instrumental in shaping the field's methodologies and applications. Born in India, Damodaran pursued his academic journey in the United States, earning his Ph.D. in finance from the University of Michigan. His early career was marked by a deep dive into the intricacies of capital markets and corporate valuation, a fascination that has remained a constant throughout his illustrious career. Damodaran's academic prowess is evident in his extensive publications. He is the author of several highly acclaimed textbooks, including Investment Valuation, Corporate Finance Theory and Practice, and Applied Corporate Finance: A User's Guide. These books are considered essential reading for students, practitioners, and academics alike, providing invaluable insights into the theory and practice of finance. His contributions to the field of finance have not gone unnoticed; Damodaran has been recognized with numerous awards and honors, including the Graham and Dodd Award from the Financial Analysts Journal and the Distinguished Scholar Award from the Academy of Financial Management. Aswath Damodaran's legacy extends far beyond his academic achievements. His dedication to teaching, research, and public outreach has inspired countless individuals to pursue careers in finance and has significantly advanced the field of corporate valuation.

Measuring Alternative Work Arrangements for Research and Policy (National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Committee on Contingent Work and Alternative Work Arrangements, 2020-11-07)

Business structures, employment relationships, job characteristics, and worker outcomes have changed in the United States over the last few decades in some ways unpredictably. A high level of interest exists among policy makers and researchers in addressing concerns about the future of work in the United States. These concerns are heightened by the perceived fracturing of relationships between workers and employers, the loss of safety net protections and benefits to workers, the growing importance of access to skills and education as the impacts of new technologies and automation are felt, and the market based pressure that companies face to produce short term profits sometimes at the expense of long term value. These issues, as well as related ones such as wage stagnation and job quality, are often associated with alternative work arrangements (AWAs), which include independent contractor and other nonemployee jobs, work through intermediaries such as temporary help agencies and other contract companies, and work with unpredictable schedules, although they also pertain to many standard jobs. A better understanding of the magnitude of and trends in AWAs, along with the implications for job quality, is needed to develop appropriate policies in response to the changing nature of work. Measuring Alternative Work Arrangements for Research and Policy reviews the

Contingent Worker Supplement CWS of the Current Population Survey CPS for the Bureau of Labor Statistics BLS in the U S Department of Labor The CWS provides key measures of temporary contingent work alternative work arrangements and the gig economy Disagreements however exist among researchers policy makers and other stakeholders about the definitions and measures of these concepts and priorities for future data collection The report also reviews measures of employment earnings and worker well being in temporary and alternative work arrangements that can be estimated using household survey data such as those generated by the CWS as well as measures that can be produced using administrative commercial and combined data sources The comparative advantages and complementarities of different data sources will be assessed as well as methodological issues underpinning BLS s measurement objectives
