society education cultural and media studies and the Middle East Prostitution, Pornography and Trafficking in Women Esther Hertzog, Erella Shadmi, 2019-01-15 This book critically analyzes the sex industry in Israel using feminist concepts and scholarship to elaborate on the power of prostitution to shape a world in which women are objects for fulfilling men's desires. A comprehensive collection of research-based articles that examine prostitution, trafficking in women and pornography from divergent disciplinary angles, it reveals the interconnectedness of these three aspects of the sex trade which objectifies, commercializes and exploits human and in particular women's sexuality. Showing these practices to be embedded in a capitalist and patriarchal oppressive context that is accommodated by state institutions, this volume rejects the argument that it is possible to choose prostitution and that feminist pornography is possible. With case studies including the conspicuous context of migration that attracts sex traffickers, the liberal discourse introduced by cinema, the media and the arts that serve to legitimate prostitution and pornography, the chauvinist macho culture that perceives and treats women as sex objects and the issues of male prostitution and men as clients, Prostitution, Pornography and Trafficking in Women Israel's Blood Money constitutes a study of Israel as a unique context in which the sex trade can prosper in spite of geographical, religious and institutional constraints. As such, it will be of interest to scholars of sociology, anthropology, history, cultural studies and gender and women's studies.

Anthropology Newsletter, 1995 Sociological Abstracts, 1994 British Humanities Index, 1986 Why Eat Green Cucumbers at the Time of Dying? Anna Robinson-Pant, 2001 The processes by which women living in rural areas of Nepal acquire literacy and deploy it for their own purposes were examined in an exploration of the diverse perspectives of policymakers, fieldworkers and participants in gender literacy and development. The study combined ethnography with a research methodology called participatory rural appraisal (PRA) which began as a development planning methodology based on an empowering process that allows all people, including weaker and poorer people, to collate, present and analyze information. The following were among the issues explored: approaches to women's literacy in Nepal; language policy in literacy programs; nongovernmental organizations versus the classroom; gender and language policy: new versus old approaches to literacy and numeracy teaching; and the role of literacy in development ideologies. The study documented how factors outside literacy classrooms, including facilitators' educational background and local concepts about education, necessitate adapting literacy practices developed in the West to the specific social contexts of rural areas in developing countries. The following are among the items in the 13 appendixes: a map of the case study areas examples of PRA activities conducted during fieldwork who s who in HIL Health Is Life and Save notes on the Nepali caste system HIL lesson sheet English name writing method Kosalee mathematics HIL mathematics sheets record forms to be completed by Save women s groups every month and an example of a Save USA funding proposal Contains 195 references MN Gender Responsive Non-formal Education in Nepal ,2005 Nepal Gender Equality and Empowerment of Women Project Asian Development Bank,2016-06-01 Women in Nepal have long experienced poverty social exclusion and marginalization because of their gender especially among ethnic minorities and low caste groups Between 2002 and 2013 the Asian Development Bank and the Government of Nepal developed and implemented the Gender Equality and Empowerment of Women Project to reduce poverty by empowering rural women and members of other disadvantaged groups through an integrated process of economic social legal and political empowerment This publication presents the case study of that project which contributed to Nepal s drive to eradicate gender based inequality Democracy, Gender Equality, and Women's Literacy Sushan Acharya,2004 Who Needs Literacy Programmes for Women in Rural Nepal Esther Hertzog,Delhi School of Economics. Department of Sociology,2008 Gender Trouble Makers Jennifer Rothchild,2007-05-07 International development efforts aimed at improving girls lives and education have been well intended somewhat effective but ultimately short sighted and incomplete This is because international development efforts often operate under a reductive understanding of the term gender and how it influences the lives of girls and boys Gender is more commonly conceived by international efforts as characteristics which are ascribed to girls as norms for behaviour In particular the analysis in Gender Trouble Makers focuses on the social constructions of gender and the ways in which gender was reinforced and maintained through a case study in rural Nepal In developing countries like Nepal promoting access to and participation in existing formal education programme is clearly necessary but it is not in itself sufficient to transform gender power relations in the broader society When gender is properly addressed as a process then all stakeholders involved researchers governmental officials and community members can begin to understand and devise more effective ways to increase both girl and boy students enrollment participation and success in school
