Michael Hanekes Cinema The Ethic Of The Image Film Europa:

Michael Haneke's Cinema Catherine Wheatley,2009 Abstract     The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films Sabine Haenni, Sarah Barrow, John White, 2014-09-15 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films comprises 200 essays by leading film scholars analysing the most important influential innovative and interesting films of all time Arranged alphabetically each entry explores why each film is significant for those who study film and explores the social historical and political contexts in which the film was produced Ranging from Hollywood classics to international bestsellers to lesser known representations of national cinema this collection is deliberately broad in scope crossing decades boundaries and genres The encyclopedia thus provides an introduction to the historical range and scope of cinema produced throughout the world     The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema Temenuga Trifonova, 2020-07-09 The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema explores contemporary debates around the concepts of Europe and European identity through an examination of recent European films dealing with various aspects of globalization the refugee crisis labour migration the resurgence of nationalism and ethnic violence neoliberalism post colonialism with a particular attention to the figure of the migrant and the ways in which this figure challenges us to rethink Europe and its core Enlightenment values citizenship justice ethics liberty tolerance and hospitality in a post national context of ephemerality volatility and contingency that finds people desperately looking for firmer markers of identity The book argues that a compelling case can be made for re orienting the study of contemporary European cinema around the figure of the migrant viewed both as a symbolic figure representing post national citizenship urbanization the gap between ethics and justice and as a figure occupying an increasingly central place in European cinema in general rather than only in what is usually called migrant and diasporic cinema By drawing attention to the structural and affective affinities between the experience of migrants and non migrants Europeans and non Europeans Trifonova shows that it is becoming increasingly difficult to separate stories about migration from stories about life under neoliberalism in general     Historical Dictionary of German Cinema Robert C.

Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2019-07-15 The History of German film is diverse and multi faceted This volume can only suggest the richness of a film tradition that includes five distinct German governments Wilhelmine Germany the Weimar Republic the Third Reich the Federal Republic of Germany West Germany and the German Democratic Republic East Germany as well as a reunited Germany two national industries Germany and Austria and a myriad of styles and production methods Paradoxically the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras as well as and the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles allow for construction of a narrative of German film Disjuncture generates distinct points of separation and yet also highlights continuities between the ruptures This second edition of Historical Dictionary of German Cinema contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 200 cross referenced entries on directors actors films cinematographers composers producers and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about German cinema Religion in Contemporary European Cinema Costica Bradatan,Camil Ungureanu,2014-02-18 The religious landscape in Europe is changing dramatically While the authority of institutional religion has weakened a growing number of people now desire individualized religious and spiritual experiences finding the self complacency of secularism unfulfilling The crisis of religion is itself a form of religious life A sense of complex subterraneous interaction between religious heterodox secular and atheistic experiences has thus emerged which makes the phenomenon all the more fascinating to study and this is what Religion in Contemporary European Cinema does The book explores the mutual influences structural analogies shared dilemmas as well as the historical roots of such a post secular constellation as seen through the lens of European cinema Bringing together scholars from film theory and political science ethics and philosophy of religion philosophy of film and theology this volume casts new light on the relationship between the religious and secular experience after the death of the death of God The Cinema of Michael Haneke Ben

McCann,David Sorfa,2011 Ben McCann is senior lecturer in French Studies at the University of Adelaide Monatshefte,2012 Fascinatingly Disturbing Alexander Darius Ornella,Stefanie Knauss,2010-04-07 Michael Haneke is one of Europe's most successful and controversial film directors Awarded the Palme d Or and numerous other international awards Haneke has contributed to and shaped contemporary auteur cinema and is becoming more and more popular among academics and cinephiles His mission is as noble as it is provocative he wants to rape the audience into independence to wake them up from the lethargy caused by the entertainment industry The filmic language he employs in this mission is both highly characteristic and efficient and yet his methods are open to criticism for their violence toward and manipulation of the audience The aim of this book is to analyze critically Haneke's aesthetics his message as well as his ethical motivation from an interdisciplinary and intercultural perspective Contributors to the book come from a variety of academic disciplines and cultural backgrounds European and North American Latent Images Jan Uhde,Yvonne Ng Uhde,2010 The authors catalogue the country's film landscape from the early days of local film production through the end of 2007 and present new discoveries on the city's film history that throw fresh light on its earliest feature productions The book's discussion of Singapore film production between 2000 and 2007 covers more than 50 new feature films and also looks at Singapore cinema in its regional and wider contexts The book also provides discussions of short film production and its impact on the development of filmmaking in the country on censorship and film classification and interviews with industry professionals and filmmakers Expanded appendices provide quick reference to bio filmographies of important Singapore filmmakers statistics from the Singapore International Film Festival and a full list of films produced in Singapore between 1927 and 2007

Sight and Sound ,2006 Caché (Hidden) Catherine Wheatley,2020-05-28 Ever since its world premiere at the Cannes film festival in May 2005 audiences have been talking about Michael Haneke's Caché The film's enigmatic and multi-layered narrative leaves its viewers with many more questions than answers The plot revolves around the mystery of who is sending a series of sinister videos and drawings to Georges Laurent Daniel Auteuil the presenter of a literary talkshow As Georges becomes increasingly secretive much to the distress of his wife Anne Juliette Binoche a culprit fails to surface And even at the film's end audiences are left struggling to make sense of what has gone before This hasn't stopped people trying In an in depth and illuminating account Wheatley examines the key themes at the heart of the meaning of Cach the film as thriller post colonial bourgeois guilt political accountability and lastly reality the media and its audiences tracing these strands through the film by means of close readings of individual scenes and moments Inspired by the director's claim that we might understand the film as a set of Russian dolls each of which is complete in itself but together forms a whole in which layers of unseen depth are concealed Wheatley avoids a single unifying approach to understanding Cach Instead her detailed analysis of the film's shifting perspectives opens up the multiplicity of meanings that Cach contains in order to understand its secrets This edition includes a new foreword in which the author reflects upon Cach in the context of Haneke's subsequent work and considers the film's contemporary resonances in an era of omnipresent surveillance technology and doctored fake news videos

Funny Frames Oliver C. Speck, 2010-06-03 Taking its cues from the cinematic innovations of the controversial Austrian born director Michael Haneke Funny Frames explores how a political thinking manifests itself in his work The book is divided into two parts In the first Oliver C Speck explores some of Haneke's Deleuzian traits showing how the theoretical concepts of the virtual of filmic space and of realism can be useful tools for unlocking the problems that Haneke formulates and solves through filmic means In the second Speck discusses a range of topics that appear in all of Haneke's films but that haven't until now been fully noticed or analyzed These chapters demonstrate how Haneke plays the role of diagnostician of culture how he reads for example madness suicide and childhood Like several other contemporary European directors Haneke addresses topics considered difficult when measured by the standards of commercial cinema the traumatic effects of violence racism and alienation Funny Frames is an incisive and original contribution to the growing scholarship on one of the most intriguing auteurs of our time
