

The image is a vibrant, colorful illustration of several Disney characters. In the upper left, Minnie Mouse is shown from the side, wearing her signature large red bow and white gloves. In the center, Mickey Mouse is depicted with his head tilted back, eyes closed, and a wide, joyful smile. To his right, Donald Duck is shown from the side, wearing his signature sailor hat and looking slightly upwards with a neutral expression. In the lower left, Daisy Duck is shown from the side, wearing her signature purple dress and white gloves, looking towards the center with a gentle smile. In the lower right, Donald Duck is shown again, this time from the front, wearing his sailor hat and a large, wide smile. The background is a warm, yellowish-orange color, and the overall style is reminiscent of a classic Disney storybook cover.

analog and digital. It described in detail how Walt Disney used inventive and often groundbreaking approaches in the use of sound, color, depth, and the psychology of characters to move the animation genre from short visual gags to feature length films with meaningful stories that engaged audiences' hearts as well as tickled their funny bones. It showed Walt's comprehensive approach to engaging the public across all media as he built the Disney Master Narrative by using products, books, comics, public engagements, fan groups such as the Mickey Mouse Club TV, and of course Disneyland his theme park. Finally, it showed how after his passing the company continued to embrace Walt's enthusiasm for using new technology to engage audiences through their commitment to innovation in digital worlds. It describes in detail the innovative storybook CD-ROMs, their extensive online presence, the software they used and created for MMORGs such as Toontown and the use of production methods such as agile methodology. This new edition provides insight on major developments in Disney films that moved them into the digital world.
