Netflix Oscar Predictions Guide:

Risk in the Film Business Michael Franklin, 2022-07-25 This book explores the complex multifaceted and contested subject of risk in the film business. How risk is understood and managed has a substantial impact upon which films are financed, produced and seen. Founded on substantial original research accessing the highest level of industry practitioners, this book examines the intertwined activity of independents, large media companies including major studios, the international marketplace and related audio visual sectors such as high end television. The book shows how risk is generally framed or even intuited rather than calculated and that this process occurs across a sliding scale of formality. This work goes beyond broad creative industries characterisations of a risky sector and concentrations on Box Office return modelling to provide a missing middle. This means a coherent analytic coverage of business organisation and project construction to address the complex practicalities that mobilise strategic operations in relation to risk often in unseen business to business contexts. Informed by economic sociology's concepts addressing market assemblage and valuation alongside applications of science and technology studies to media and communications, the book respects both the powerful roles of social and institutional actors and affordances of new technologies in dealing with the persistent known unknowns the audience. Examining a persistent business issue in a new way, this book analyses top level industry practice through established mechanisms and innovations like data analytics. The result is a book that will be essential reading for scholars with an interest in the film business as well as risk management more broadly.

Accessible Filmmaking Pablo Romero-Fresco, 2019-05-01

Translation accessibility and the viewing experience of foreign deaf and blind audiences has long been a neglected area of research within film studies. The same applies to the film industry where current distribution strategies and exhibition platforms severely underestimate the audience that exists for foreign and accessible cinema. Translated and accessible versions are usually produced with limited time for little remuneration and traditionally involving zero contact with the creative team. Against this background, this book presents accessible filmmaking as an alternative approach integrating translation and accessibility into the filmmaking process through collaboration between translators and filmmakers. The book introduces a wide notion of media accessibility and the concepts of the global version, the dubbing effect and subtitling blindness. It presents scientific evidence showing how translation and accessibility can impact the nature and reception of a film by foreign and sensory impaired audiences often changing the film in a way that filmmakers are not always aware of. The book includes clips from the award winning film Notes on Blindness on the Routledge Translation Studies Portal, testimonies from filmmakers who have adopted this approach and a presentation of the accessible filmmaking workflow and a new professional figure the director of accessibility and translation. This is an essential resource for advanced students and scholars working in film audiovisual translation and media accessibility as well as for those accessible filmmakers who are not only concerned about their original viewers but also about those of the foreign and accessible versions of their films who are often left behind New Trends in Database and Information Systems Alberto Abelló, Panos Vassiliadis, Oscar Romero, Robert Wrembel, Francesca Bugiotti, Johann Gamper, Genoveva Vargas Solar, Ester Zumpano, 2023-08-30 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Doctoral Consortium and Workshops on New Trends in Database and Information Systems ADBIS 2023 held in Barcelona Spain during September 4-7 2023.
