Reconstructed Lives Haleh Esfandiari, 1997-07 Iranian women tell in their own words what the revolution attempted and how they responded The Islamic revolution of 1979 transformed all areas of Iranian life For women the consequences were extensive and profound as the state set out to reverse legal and social rights women had won and to dictate many aspects of women s lives including what they could study and how they must dress and relate to men Reconstructed Lives presents Iranian women telling in their own words what the revolution attempted and how they responded Through a series of interviews with professional and working women in Iran doctors lawyers writers professors secretaries businesswomen Haleh Esfandiari gathers dramatic accounts of what has happened to their lives as women in an Islamic society She and her informants describe the strategies by which women try to and sometimes succeed in subverting the state s agenda Esfandiari also provides historical background on the women s movement in Iran She finds evidence in Iran s experience that even women from traditional and working classes do not easily surrender rights or access they have gained to education career opportunities and a public role Reconstructing Lives Nanthalia W. McJamerson, Ph. D., 2016-02-11 This author is onto something groundbreaking by combining literature counseling education and critical thinking Dr Jean Kerney Educational Consultant Chillicothe Ohio The students and I experienced shocking revelations as they researched their selected celebrities As an Instructor I saw students were excited about learning that each celebrity they chose had a story which inspired drive to reach their glory Students had taken it at face value that these people s lives were always perfect Secondly I think this curriculum project gave students much needed advice Advice impacts differently when it comes from someone you idolize It gave these freshmen ideas of how to handle college and how to navigate issues in their lives Most importantly this project allowed students to exhale they now know whatever their struggles they are not alone Dr Jessie Broussard Researcher and Instructor University of Louisiana Lafayette When I was introduced to the Reconstructing Lives Project I was delighted to have a new way to assess my students comprehension of teaching theories Teacher candidates thought the theories were boring however they eventually found that connecting theories to their icons and later to themselves was meaningful The majority of my students felt the redemption that it brought them They didn t write it all in their papers rather they came to my office and explained what the project meant to them personally What surprised me most in 10 years of using the Project was the fact that it was not only a measure of student learning but also a measure of how much I could teach them about theory about my life and about their own life success Dr Felicie Barnes Professor of Education Retired Grambling State University Companion Workbook available at www.amazon.com/RE-MAKE-AN-ICON-SO-YOU-CAN-PRODUCE-ONE

Reconstruction: How to rebuild your body, mind and life after a breast cancer diagnosis Rosamund Dean, 2023-05-25 The complete guide to what to expect when you re expecting the worst My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld, Ph.d., 2015-10-16 This book is a socio autobiography of a young man born in a Jewish town at the foot hills of the

Carpathian Mountains in 1925 to a devout Jewish family and his journey through the Holocaust toward academia in the United States This new edition also follows his story into retirement This book is the revelation and personal evolution of a boy born and steeped in orthodoxy who while retaining the essence of the values into which he inducted sought at the same time to re interpret his original values and ideals He takes this orthodox particularism and seeks to reconstruct it to become a universalist view of mankind This book is also a description of his effort to reconstruct his life which had been destroyed by Hitler s effort to make the world Jew free In the camps he lost most of his family upon which the foundation of his early life was built After the war finding himself alone he had to revise his plans for the future and was forced to find his way alone in another world and another way of life He seeks to overcome obstacles and rebuild his life while also finding a niche for himself in a new post Holocaust world Eugen Schoenfeld shares with his readers the hardships he endured both in the camps and after liberation of hunger and loneliness and separation from his father living behind the Iron Curtain He invites his readers to share the various choices he had to make to understand the reasons for his decisions in the process of reconstructing his life He explores the paths he had to follow in order to achieve his goal of understanding finding the answers to the question he asked his father on the first day in Auschwitz Birkenau How is possible that now in the midst of the twentieth century after all the great achievements in philosophy psychology and theology man is still inhumane This book is his search for a way through which human beings can reconstruct themselves can cease living merely as human beings and evolving into humane beings

My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld,Kennesaw State University Press,2010 In My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld tells the improbable story of his life Born in a small shtetl in the Carpathian Mountains Schoenfeld became a professor of Sociology at Georgia State University The fact that a small boy from this background would become a professor is noteworthy in and of itself What makes it remarkable however is that between one axis of his life his youth in a small Jewish community in Hungary s mountains and the other his distinguished career at a state university he endured and survived the Holocaust Though each life is uniquely valuable the course of Schoenfeld s life reminds us of the tremendous intellectual and professional losses perpetrated by the Holocaust From Foreword by Deborah E Lipstadt Ph D Emory University Atlanta GA

Life for African American Males in Lima, Ohio Jill Rowe-Adjibogoun,2004 African American males are simultaneously loved hated and feared in American culture Historically they have been depicted in the mainstream media as violent agents of destruction and at the same time they have been admired and idolized for their athletic ability and their creativity as entertainers most recently as the standard bearers of Hip Hop culture rap music and conspicuous consumption This historical and ethnographic study focuses on the lives and identities of African American males in Lima Ohio It utilizes a practice approach and an historical methodology to explore the changing identities of African American males and the structural constraints that have contributed to the normalization of violence in this often isolated segment of society The intent is to shed light on major historical events and structural features that have been instrumental in shaping their present day identities In many ways Lima serves as a microcosm of life for some African American males in other places in the country and as a mirror of historical events that occurred concurrently in other Midwestern towns and cities Abstract pages ii iii Reconstruction ,1990 The Watchman-examiner ,1930 No Less a Woman Deborah Hobler Kahane,1990

The Reconstruction of Leadership William Foster,1986 The study of leadership has faltered partly because the wrong phenomenon has been studied Whereas the usual definition considers leadership either as a personal property or as a property of position this paper argues that it is a transient phenomenon residing neither in the person nor the situation and one that can be practiced equally well by different social players Four attempts to redefine leadership by Selznick Burns Tucker and Bennis do come closer to developing a hermeneutic view however all imply that leadership is an intrinsic property possessed by certain individuals But in fact leadership resides in actions not in persons Leadership acts are a communal democratic effort founded in the notion of praxis and each act must have a social context and critical audience Three elements of leadership are that it involves the penetration of structure that it must be politically and critically educative and that it is conditioned on language and communication Included in the document are three readings that support this position First Leadership The Socratic Model by L Grob asserts the critical spirit as the ground for all leadership second Leadership Research Choosing Gods and Devils on the Run by M W McCall Jr makes the case that the purpose of leadership research is to display its effectiveness or ineffectiveness and to point out areas for future research and finally Leadership Is a Language Game by L R Pondy explores the potential influence of leaders language on their effectiveness The document includes 4 lists of references and an annotated bibliography of 26 suggested readings RG
