Project 2000

Quick Reference Guide

Project Basics and Workflow

A project is a group of coordinated tasks that have a common goal. The chart below gives an overview of the stages involved in creating and managing a project.

Create the Project File

Creating a project file requires defining the project into clearly defined tasks (see Creating Tasks, page 10), then assigning resources to complete those tasks (see Allocating Resources to Tasks, page 10).

To create a project file, choose File, New. In the New dialog box, click the [Standard] 10 tab, then double-click [1] New Project. On the Microsoft Project dialog box, click OK to accept the default settings. The project will start on the current date.

Manage the Project

Managing a project requires you to update task status and resource assignments (see Monitoring Progress and Allocating Resources, page 10), analyze the project's progress using different views (see Change Views, page 20), and track and generate reports against your original baseline plan (see Monitoring and Measuring Progress, page 10).

Print Reports and Views

Printing reports helps team members see or discuss important project information. Project provides reports that summarize specific types of information, such as cost reports that identify budget changes, or activity reports that indicate task progress (see Printing Reports and Views, page 10).
