Never Let Me Go Netflix:

The Art of Being Human Michael Rose, 2022-12-04 Fake news genetic engineering designer babies Big Pharma incipient totalitarian rule the destruction of books transhumanism the desire to play God and the serial misuse of the word science it may sound a lot like America in the 2020s but these politically charged modern concerns have been probed deeply in classic fiction by a host of prescient authors over the past two centuries The Art of Being Human draws some much needed attention to the impact great literature can and does have especially in the realm of the cautionary tale in considering how we might learn from the past in order to inform our present decisions and plan for the future all the while maintaining our humanity amid a dehumanizing world

The Rhetoric of Dystopia Christopher Carter, 2024-06-10 The Rhetoric of Dystopia develops an idea of emergent metalepsis that describes the uncanny moments where fictive texts anticipate material events blurring the boundary between the storyworld and the world of reception Christopher Carter treats dystopia as rhetoric that shapes collective identities while speeding across platforms and geopolitical borders at once critiquing and exemplifying the circulation of power relations through varied modes This rhetoric features rampant viruses authoritarian governments corporate behemoths corrupt educational and scientific institutions and brutal policing sometimes amplifying existing trends and sometimes merely documenting them From Bong Joon ho to Reed Morano Octavia Butler to Richard McGuire artists proffer arguments whose gravity we often fail to register thus calling into question the uses of media literacy in an age of looming cataclysm Carter situates this rhetoric within scholarship on literacy built environments border policies global food production and the Anthropocene

The Western Humanities Review, 2016 Discorrelated Images Shane Denson, 2020-09-18 In Discorrelated Images Shane Denson examines how computer generated digital images displace and transform the traditional spatial and temporal relationships that viewers had with conventional analog forms of cinema Denson analyzes works ranging from the Transformers series and Blade Runner 2049 to videogames and multimedia installations to show how what he calls discorrelated images images that do not correlate with the abilities and limits of human perception produce new subjectivities affects and potentials for perception and action Denson's theorization suggests that new media theory and its focus on technological development must now be inseparable from film and cinema theory There's more at stake in understanding discorrelated images Denson contends than just a reshaping of cinema the development of new technical imaging processes and the evolution of film and media studies discorrelated images herald a transformation of subjectivity itself and are essential to our ability to comprehend nonhuman agency

Castration Desire Robinson Murphy, 2023-12-14 Theorizes an alternative form of masculinity in global literature that is less egocentric and more sustainable both in terms of gendered and environmental power dynamics Contemporary novelists and filmmakers like Kazuo Ishiguro Japanese British Emma Donoghue Irish Canadian Michael Ondaatje Sri Lankan Canadian Bong Joon ho South Korean and J M Coetzee South African Australian are emblematic of a transnational phenomenon that Robinson Murphy calls castration desire That is these artists present privileged characters who nonetheless pursue their own diminishment In promulgating through their characters a less egocentric mode of thinking and acting these artists offer a blueprint for engendering a more other oriented global relationality Murphy proposes that in addition to being an ethical prerogative castration desire s less is more model of relationality would make life livable where veritable suicide is our species otherwise potential fate Castration desire thus offers an antidote to rapacious extractivism with the ambition of instilling a sustainable model for thinking and acting on an imminently eco apocalyptic earth In providing a fresh optic through which to read a diversity of text types Castration Desire helps define where literary criticism is now and where it is headed Castration Desire additionally extends and develops a zeitgeist currently unfolding in critical theory It brings Leo Bersani s concept psychic utopia together with Judith Butler s radical egalitarianism but transports their shared critique of phallic individualization into the environmental humanities In doing so this book builds a new framework for how gender studies intersects with environmental studies

Post-cinema José Moure, Dominique Chateau, 2025-10-01 Post cinema designates a new way of making films It is time to ask whether this novelty is complete or relative and to evaluate to what extent it represents a unitary or diversified current The book proposes to integrate the post cinema question within the post art question in order to study the new ways of making filmic images The issue will be considered at three levels the impression of post art on regular films the relocation Casetti of the same films that can be seen using devices of all kinds in conditions more or less removed from the dispositif of the theater the integration of cinema into contemporary art in all kinds of forms of creation and exhibition parallel to the integration of contemporary art in regular cinema
