New Forms Nicola Leonardi,2009-06-02 From double curvature shapes to geometrically demanding structures 20 projects by the world s most exciting practices are shown in exciting detail through specially created plans sections and elevations New Forms ,2009 The Architecture of Alexandria and Egypt, C. 300 B.C. to A.D. 700 Judith McKenzie,Rhys-Davids Junior Research Fellow in Archaeology Judith McKenzie,Peter Roger Stuart Moorey,2007-01-01 This masterful history of the monumental architecture of Alexandria as well as of the rest of Egypt encompasses an entire millennium from the city s founding by Alexander the Great in 331 B C to the years just after the Islamic conquest of A D 642 Long considered lost beyond recall the architecture of ancient Alexandria has until now remained mysterious But here Judith McKenzie shows that it is indeed possible to reconstruct the city and many of its buildings by means of meticulous exploration of archaeological remains written sources and an array of other fragmentary evidence The book approaches its subject at the macro and the micro level from city planning building types and designs to architectural style It addresses the interaction between the imported Greek and native Egyptian traditions the relations between the architecture of Alexandria and the other cities and towns of Egypt as well as the wider Mediterranean world and Alexandria s previously unrecognized role as a major source of architectural innovation and artistic influence Lavishly illustrated with new plans of the city in the Ptolemaic Roman and Byzantine periods reconstruction drawings and photographs the book brings to life the ancient city and uncovers the true extent of its architectural legacy in the Mediterranean world American Architect and Building News ,1876 Architect ,1872 A history of architecture in all countries, from the earliest times to... James Fergusson,1873 A Treatise on Architecture and Building Construction, Prepared for Students of the International Correspondence Schools International Correspondence Schools,1899 Globalizing Roman Culture Richard Hingley,2005-02-08 Richard Hingley here asks the questions What is Romanization Was Rome the first global culture Romanization has been represented as a simple progression from barbarism to civilization Roman forms in architecture coinage language and literature came to dominate the world from Britain to Syria Hingley argues for a more complex and nuanced view in which Roman models provided the means for provincial elites to articulate their own concerns Inhabitants of the Roman provinces were able to develop identities they never knew they had until Rome gave them the language to express them Hingley draws together the threads of diverse and separate study in one sophisticated theoretical framework that spans the whole Roman Empire Students of Rome and those with an interest in classical cultural studies will find this an invaluable mine of information Modern Architecture Henry Heathcote Statham,1898 Art Foliage, for Sculpture and Decoration James Kellaway Colling,1877 American Architect and the Architectural Review ,1892 The Iconographic Encyclopaedia of the Arts and Scien: Architecture ,1888 Future Details of Architecture Mark Garcia,2014-07-16 Despite the exaggerated news of the untimely death of the detail by Greg Lynn the architectural detail is now more lifelike and active than ever before. In this era of digital design and production technologies, new materials, parametrics, building information modeling (BIM), augmented realities, and nanobiotechnology, computation and consilience are the detail. It is now an increasingly vital force in architecture. Though such digitally designed and produced details are diminishing in size to the molecular and nano levels, they are increasingly becoming more complex, multi-functional, high-performance, and self-replicating. Far from being a non-essential and final finish, this new type of highly evolved high-tech detail is rapidly becoming the indispensable and critical core of the sometimes iconic DNA of an innovative new species of built environmental form that is spawning in scale and prominence across product, interior, urban, and landscape design. This issue of AD re-examines the history, theories, and design of the world's most significant spatial details and explores their innovative potentials and possibilities for the future of architecture. Contributors include Rachel Armstrong, Nic Clear, Edward Ford, Dennis Shelden, Skylar Tibbits, Featured architects: Ben van Berkel, Hernan Diaz Alonso, Peter Macapia, Carlo Ratti, Philippe Rahm, Patrik Schumacher, Neil Spiller.

Journal of Proceedings of the Royal Institute of British Architects, 1891      The Architectural Review, 1899      The Architect and Contract Reporter, 1897      New Forms Philip Jodidio, 2001

The decade since the mid-1980s has seen an unparalleled surge in architectural creativity. Completely new design possibilities have been opened up by technological innovations such as computer-aided design, and at the same time, there has been a growing cross-fertilization between architecture and art. The face of today's architecture is shaped by masters such as Frank O. Gehry, Zaha Hadid, Rem Koolhaas, and Tadao Ando, to name but a few. Whether in Japan, the USA, or Europe, everywhere the search is on for new forms and the impressive results of that quest are presented to the reader. Book jacket

Passages. Architecture for Flowing and Connecting Spaces Nicolò Chierichetti, Raffaella Cavallaro, 2025-09-01

Ceci n'est pas une conférence sur la mobilité. As infrastructures of movement often prioritize technical efficiency, they risk neglecting the qualitative and experiential dimensions of space, an oversight that architectural thinking is distinctively positioned to address. Architecture offers a special perspective to address this gap, particularly in light of SDG 09 (Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) and in reference to the principles of the EAAE Charter. By engaging with mobility through a transversal approach, the conference explores how architectural design can contribute to reimagining spaces to overcome functionalist engineering limitations, also considering the ecological, climate, and social impacts of mobility spaces as something more than mere built objects. Through the examination of design methodologies and prototype case studies, the conference attempts to unveil the potential of architectural design and research tools to enrich unconventional discussions about mobility in urban and peri-urban contexts, its spatial configurations, and experiential qualities. Although mobility is intended as a framework, the discourse will focus on the spaces above, below, in between, and to the sides of the ordinary boundaries of architectures of flow, as well as on the spaces of new forms of movement. The conference Passages. Architecture for Flowing and Connecting Spaces invited contributions which critically address the role of Architecture in the Shaping the spaces of mobility and in their interference around the sessions of Intersection Collateral and Evolution     Transactions Royal Institute of British Architects, 1880     A History of Architecture in All Countries James Fergusson, 1874
