Watching Game of Thrones Martin Barker, Clarissa Smith, Feona Attwood, 2021-03-23 Game of Thrones was an international sensation and has been looked at from many different angles But to date there has been little research into its audiences who they were how they engaged with and responded to it This book presents the findings of a major international research project that garnered more than 10 000 responses to an innovative qualiquantitative questionnaire Among its findings are a new way of understanding the place and role of favourite characters in audiences responses new insights into the role of fantasy in encouraging thinking about our own world and an account of two combined emotions relish and anguish which structure audiences reactions to controversial elements in the series

Epistolary Entanglements in Film, Media and the Visual Arts Teri Higgins, Catherine Fowler, 2025-10-01 This collection departs from the observation that online forms of communication the email blog text message tweet are actually haunted by old epistolary forms the letter and the diary By examining the omnipresence of writing across a variety of media the collection adds the category of Epistolary Screens to genres of self expression both literary letters diaries auto biographies and screenic romance dramas intercultural cinema essay films artists videos and online media The category Epistolary encapsulates an increasingly paradoxical relation between writing and the self first it describes selves that are written in graphic detail via letters diaries blogs texts emails and tweets second it acknowledges that absence complicates communication bringing people together in an entangled rather than ordered way The collection concerns itself with the changing visual textual texture of screen media and examines what is at stake for our understanding of self expression when it takes Epistolary forms The collection Auto graphic Screens Epistolary Entanglements in Film Media and Visual Culture Is the first to interrogate the presence of epistolary forms of writing on screen It adds the new category of Auto graphic screens to genres of self expression and provides a broad perspective upon epistolary forms of writing on screen by studying romance dramas and intercultural cinema essay films artist s filmmaking and online media

Cinematic Digital Television Chris

Comerford,2022-12-20 Chris Comerford explores cinematic digital television as an artistic classification and an academic object of study and illuminates the slippage in definitions of previously understood media forms The growth of television as an artistic informative medium has given rise to shifts in the aesthetic style of the programmes we watch and this book outlines these shifts along with the contemporary debates and critical theory surrounding them Comerford looks at the forms and aesthetics of television the production standards influencing streaming television and the agency of audiences and provides case studies of key TV shows illustrating these shifts including Twin Peaks The Return WandaVision Hacks and Russian Doll Navigating the levels of production and reception in cinematic digital television the book uses film inspired TV as a lightning rod for understanding our narrative screen media landscape and the classifications we use to negotiate it As an essential reading for both scholars and students of media and television studies this book provides a much needed consideration of the changing landscape of television
