Systems Thinking in the Built Environment Guillaume Habert,Arno Schlueter,2016-08-15 Consuming over 40% of total primary energy the built environment is in the centre of worldwide strategies and measures towards a more sustainable future To provide resilient solutions a simple optimisation of individual technologies will not be sufficient In contrast whole system thinking reveals and exploits connections between parts Each system interacts with others on different scales materials components buildings cities and domains ecology economy and social Whole system designers optimize the performance of such systems by understanding interconnections and identifying synergies The more complete the design integration the better the result In this book the reader will find the proceedings of the 2016 Sustainable Built Environment SBE Regional Conference in Zurich Papers have been written by academics and practitioners from all continents to bring forth the latest understanding on systems thinking in the built environment    Energy Utilization ,1980    Energy

Efficiency in Buildings José Manuel Andújar,Sergio Gómez Melgar,2020-04-28 Buildings are one of the main causes of the emission of greenhouse gases in the world Europe alone is responsible for more than 30% of emissions or about 900 million tons of CO2 per year Heating and air conditioning are the main cause of greenhouse gas emissions in buildings Most buildings currently in use were built with poor energy efficiency criteria or depending on the country and the date of construction none at all Therefore regardless of whether construction regulations are becoming stricter the real challenge nowadays is the energy rehabilitation of existing buildings It is currently a priority to reduce or ideally eliminate the waste of energy in buildings and at the same time supply the necessary energy through renewable sources The first can be achieved by improving the architectural design construction methods and materials used as well as the efficiency of the facilities and systems the second can be achieved through the integration of renewable energy wind solar geothermal etc in buildings In any case regardless of whether the energy used is renewable or not the efficiency must always be taken into account The most profitable and clean energy is that which is not consumed    Popular Science ,1981-11 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better
