Sustainable Tourism and Natural Resource Conservation in the Polar Regions Machiel Lamers, Edward Huijbens, 2018-08-09 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Sustainable Tourism and Natural Resource Conservation in the Polar Regions that was published in Resources

Tourism and Indigeneity in the Arctic Arvid Viken, Dieter K. Müller, 2017-05-03 This is the first book to exclusively address tourism and indigenous peoples in the circumpolar North It examines how tourism in indigenous communities is influenced by academic and political discourses and how these communities are influenced by tourism The volume focuses on the ambivalence relating to tourism as a modern force within ethnic groups who are concerned with maintaining indigenous roots and traditional practices It seeks to challenge stereotypical understandings of indigenusness and indigeneity and considers conflicting imaginaries of the Arctic and Arctic indigenous tourism The book contains case studies from Canada Greenland Norway Sweden Finland and Russia and will be of interest to postgraduate students and researchers of tourism geography sociology cultural studies and anthropology

Tourism Resilience and Adaptation to Environmental Change Alan A. Lew, Joseph M. Cheer, 2017-07-31 In recent years resilience theory has come to occupy the core of our understanding and management of the adaptive capacity of people and places in complex social and environmental systems Despite this tourism scholars have been slow to adopt resilience concepts at a time when the emergence of new frameworks and applications is pressing Drawing on original empirical and theoretical insights in resilience thinking this book explores how tourism communities and economies respond to environmental changes both fast natural hazard disasters and slow incremental shifts It explores how tourism places adapt change and sometimes transform or not in relation to their environmental context with an awareness of intersection with societal dynamics and links to political economic and social drivers of change Contributions draw on empirical research conducted in a range of international settings including indigenous communities to explore the complexity and gradations of environmental change encounters and resilience planning responses in a range of tourism contexts As the first book to specifically focus on environmental change from a resilience perspective this timely and original work makes a critical contribution to tourism studies tourism management and environmental geography as well as environmental sciences and development studies

Asian Mobilities Consumption in a Changing Arctic Young-Sook Lee, 2021-10-20 This book provides an in depth examination of the growing Asian tourism market and consumption in Arctic destinations Through five parts the book covers Asian mobilities consumption as an extension of Arctic international politics the transportation sector and green cruise tourism and ethnicity culture and history It contributes to further understanding of the impacts of increased tourism in these polar regions by exploring climate change debates around emerging economies and global power roles in the political socio economic security and legal issues of the Arctic and Antarctic and associated polar strategies and policy By drawing on a range of disciplines and with contributions from experts in Arctic destinations or who are associated with the Arctic it further provides a holistic framing of emerging demand and mobility patterns of Asian tourists in a polar context Asian Mobilities Consumption in a Changing Arctic will be valuable reading for students and academics across the fields of tourism economics sustainability development studies as well as other social science disciplines

Tourism Development in Critical Environments Tejvir Singh, Shalini Singh, 1999 Tourism in Marine Environments, 2009 Polar Tourism Bernard Stonehouse, John Snyder, 2010 Tourism throughout the world raises environmental issues that are often concerned with conflicting rights and responsibilities the inherent right of mankind to travel the no less inherent right of indigenous people to guard their environmental heritage and the responsibility of governments local national or in the unique case of Antarctica international to protect environments over which they exercise stewardship Additionally the presence of international commercial enterprises especially marine and other mass transport modes represent unique governance challenges This book deals mainly with environmental issues and the management implications arising from polar tourism one of the fastest growing sectors of world tourism However many of the issues discussed here arise no less urgently in temperate and tropical wilderness areas and indeed in any region where sensitive environments are subjected to mass tourism The principles and guidelines discussed here are of interest and practical use in tourism studies generally
