Linguistic Issues and Quality Assessment of English-Arabic Audiovisual Translation Ahmad Khuddro, 2019-01-17 Due to a dearth of academic references in the area of English Arabic audiovisual translation AVT this book represents a unique resource in that it explores dubbing and subtitling into Arabic a topic hardly discussed among academics both in the Arab world and worldwide The book starts with some linguistic and audiovisual background and lays new foundations for a discussion about the similarities between the translation of drama texts and AVT It then moves on to highlight some grammatical syntactic semantic and functional challenges faced in subtitling with examples from various recent audiovisual material as deictics exophora idiomatic language register negation duality and plurality and subject predicate agreement in the target subtitled text The book s originality is manifest in its investigation of the obstacles encountered by new anonymous subtitlers by providing evidence in the form of genuine samples of their work The book concludes with some original subtitling quality assessment reports and presents effective strategies of subtitling

Reception Studies and Adaptation Giulia Magazzù, Valentina Rossi, Angela Sileo, 2020-07-22 Offering compelling insights into the Italian adaptation of diversified English products this volume is addressed to both scholars and students wishing to delve into the field of reception studies It focuses on literary multimedia and audiovisual translation due to the conviction that the modalities through which the imprinting of Italianness is marked upon several English hypertexts are still worth investigating today The contributions here highlight how some choices may in some instances alter the meaning as much as the success of some English aesthetic texts by directing if not possibly undermining the audience reception

Topics in Audiovisual Translation Pilar Orero, 2004-01-01 The late twentieth century transition from a paper oriented to a media oriented society has triggered the emergence of Audiovisual Translation as the most dynamic and fastest developing trend within Translation Studies The growing interest in this area is a clear indication that this discipline is going to set the agenda for the theory research training and practice of translation in the twenty first century Even so this remains a largely underdeveloped field and much needs to be done to put Screen Translation Multimedia Translation or the wider implications of Audiovisual Translation on a par with other fields within Translation Studies In this light this collection of essays reflects not only the state of the art in the research and teaching of Audiovisual Translation but also the professionals experiences The different contributions cover issues ranging from reflections on professional activities to theory the impact of ideology on Audiovisual Translation and the practices of teaching and researching this new and challenging discipline In expanding further the ground covered by the John Benjamins book Multi Media Translation 2001 this book seeks to provide readers with a deeper insight into some of the specific concepts problems aims and terminology of Audiovisual Translation and by this token to make these specificities emerge from within the wider nexus of Translation Studies Film Studies and Media Studies In a quickly developing technical audiovisual world Audiovisual Translation Studies is set to become the academic field that will address the complex cultural issues of a pervasively media oriented society

Audiovisual Translation Laura Incalcaterra McLoughlin, Marie Biscio, Máire Áine Ní Mhainnín, 2011 An increasing number of contributions have appeared in recent years on the subject of Audiovisual Translation AVT particularly in relation to dubbing and subtitling The broad scope of this branch of Translation Studies is challenging because it brings together diverse disciplines including film studies translatology semiotics linguistics applied linguistics cognitive psychology technology and ICT ItBR This volume addresses issues relating to AVT research and didactics The first section is dedicated to theoretical aspects in order to stimulate further debate and encourage progress in research informed teaching The second section focuses on a less developed area of research in the field of AVT its potential use in foreign language pedagogy ItBR This collection of articles is intended to create a discourse on new directions in AVT and foreign language learning The book begins with reflections on wider methodological issues advances to a proposed model of analysis for colloquial speech touches on more niche aspects of AVT e g surtitling progresses to didactic applications in foreign language pedagogy and learning at both linguistic and cultural levels and concludes with a practical proposal for the use of AVT in foreign language classes An interview with a professional subtitler draws the volume to a close

Audiovisual Translation Yves Gambier, Sara Ramos Pinto, 2018-06-15 The exponential growth of Audiovisual Translation AVT in the last three decades has consolidated its place as an area of study within Translation Studies TS However AVT is still a young domain currently exploring a number of different lines of inquiry without a specific methodological and theoretical framework This volume discusses the advantages and drawbacks of ten approaches to AVT and highlights the potential avenues opened up by new methods Our aim is to jumpstart the discussion on the inadequacy of the methodologies imported from other disciplines and the need or not for a conceptual apparatus and framework of analysis specific to AVT This collective work relates to recent edited volumes that seek to take stock on research in AVT but it distinguishes itself from those publications by promoting links in what is now a very fragmented field Originally published as a special issue of Target 28 2 2016 Media and Translation Dror Abend-David, 2014-07-31 Over the last decade there has been a dramatic increase in publications on media and translation In fact there are those who believe that so much has been published in this field that any further publications are superfluous But if one views media and translation as anything ranging from film and television drama to news casting commercials video games web pages and electronic street signs it would seem that research in media and translation has barely scratched the surface The research in this field is shared largely by scholars in communication and translation studies often without knowledge of each other or access to their respective methods of scholarship This collection will rectify this lack of communication by bringing such scholars together and creating a context for a theoretical discussion of the entire emerging field of Media and Translation with a preference for theoretical work rather than case studies on translation and communications of various forms and through various media Linguistic Labor and Literary Doulas Remy Attig, 2024-09-05 An examination of Spanglish Portu ol and Judeo Spanish literatures that builds on sociolinguistic understandings of the intersections of language nation and identity to develop the theoretical frameworks of linguistic labor and literary doulas Connecting the metaphor of labor to the human life cycle Remy Attig introduces the notion of literary doulas These doulas accompany a community as a body of literature is born akin to the doula as midwife or in the case of Judeo Spanish writes the language as a form of linguistic palliative care for a community whose historical language is facing imminent death the death doula Presenting three case studies of Spanglish Portu ol and Judeo Spanish the first part of Linguistic Labor and Literary Doulas places the emergence of these languages in their respective geographies and contexts Attig discusses the work of authors and literary doulas including Susana Ch vez Silverman Gloria Anzald a Fabi n Severo and Matilda Ko n Sarano The framework of linguistic labor relates the creation of a literary corpus in an undervalued or stigmatized language context to other forms of domestic or gendered labor often the responsibility of women and queer people In the second part of the book Attig places these literatures and theories in discussion with emerging scholarship in translinguistics queer theories and translation studies By applying the notion of translinguistics to useful case studies that challenge traditional understandings of the frontiers between languages Linguistic Labor and Literary Doulas models productive ways that we can discuss real world linguistic practices as valuable aspects of culture and identity Translation Today Gunilla M. Anderman, Margaret Rogers, 2003

This text provides a snapshot of issues reflecting the changing nature of translation studies at the beginning of a new millennium. Resulting from discussions between translation theorists from all over the world, topics covered include the nature of translation, English as a lingua franca, public service translation and interpreting, assessment and audio-visual translation. The first part of the work covers a discussion stimulated by Peter Newmark's paper, and the second part allows invited colleagues to develop his topics.

Fast-Forwarding with Audiovisual Translation Jorge Díaz Cintas, Kristijan Nikolić, 2017-12-14 This edited collection offers a rounded vision of some of the ways in which audiovisual translation (AVT) can be approached from an academic, professional and educational point of view. The studies provide a stimulating and thought-provoking account of some of the most representative themes that are currently being researched in the field of AVT, while also highlighting new directions of potential research from a cognitive perspective. A conscious effort has been made to cover not only cultural and linguistic approaches to traditional domains of AVT such as dubbing and subtitling, but also to look into lesser-known areas of research that are attracting substantial interest from various stakeholders and gradually becoming part of the remit of AVT, including subtitling for the deaf and audio description for the blind. In this respect, the chapters of this book tackle the field of AVT from a plural, comprehensive and up-to-date perspective, speak of a rich and complex academic subject, in the making, broaden our existing knowledge on AVT, reflect the many crossroads and junctions it currently faces and outline some of the issues that will become topical in the near future in this fascinating, flourishing discipline.

Perspectives on Translation Anna Bączkowska, 2015 This volume offers a selection of issues currently encountered by scholars working within the broadly understood discipline of Translation Studies. The contributions here discuss topical and recurrent issues which have long been at the forefront of this discipline, such as phraseology, corpora, quality of interpreting, translator training, censorship, style, proper names and receptor-oriented translation. In addition, they also deal with relatively recent developments such as humour and multimodality in audiovisual translation and those problems rarely conclusively addressed in the context of translation, namely impoliteness and paratexts. Bringing together authors from eight countries, namely the UK, Spain, Germany, Austria, Poland, Italy, the USA and New Zealand, the volume offers research into translation from a variety of methodological solutions and conducted across eight languages: English, Spanish, Catalan, Polish, German, Italian, Chinese and Greek. Despite the diversity of themes presented, the main research areas emerging from all the contributions fall into four thematic groups: 1. lexicological issues and corpora in translation studies; 2. quality and translator training; 3. audiovisual translation; and 4. literary translation.

Audiovisual Translation Luis Perez-Gonzalez, 2014-08-27 Audiovisual translation is the fastest growing strand within translation studies. This book addresses the need for more robust theoretical frameworks to investigate emerging text types, address new methodological challenges, including the compilation, analysis and reproduction of audiovisual data, and understand new discourse communities bound together by the production and consumption of audiovisual texts. In this clear, user-friendly book, Luis P rez Gonz lez introduces and explores the field presenting and critiquing key concepts research models and methodological approaches Features include introductory overviews at the beginning of each chapter outlining aims and relevant connections with other chapters breakout boxes showcasing key concepts research case studies or other relevant links to the wider field of translation studies examples of audiovisual texts in a range of languages with back translation support when required summaries reinforcing key issues dealt with in each chapter follow up questions for further study core references and suggestions for further reading additional online resources on an extensive companion website This will be an essential text for all students studying audiovisual or screen translation at postgraduate or advanced undergraduate level and key reading for all researchers working in the area

The Didactics of Audiovisual Translation Jorge

D  az-Cintas,2008-08-14 While complementing other volumes in the BTL series in its exploration of the state of the art of translator training this collection of essays is solely focused on audiovisual translation one of the most complex and dynamic areas of the translation discipline The book offers an easily accessible yet comprehensive introduction to the fascinating subject of translating films video games and other audiovisual material Offering a balance between theory and practice the main aim of this volume is to provide a wealth of teaching and learning ideas in areas such as subtitling dubbing and voice over without forgetting the newer fields of subtitling for the deaf and audio description for the blind The Didactics of Audiovisual Translation offers exercises and more on a companion website highlighting its fundamentally interactive approach and the activities proposed can be adapted to different learning environments and used with different language combinations <https://benjamins.com/sites/btl/77>

New Insights Into Audiovisual Translation and Media Accessibility

Jorge D  az Cintas,Anna Matamala,Jos  lia Neves,2010 This volume aims to take the pulse of the changes taking place in the thriving field of Audiovisual Translation and to offer new insights into both theoretical and practical issues Academics and practitioners of proven international reputation are given voice in three distinctive sections pivoting around the main areas of subtitling and dubbing media accessibility subtitling for the deaf and hard of hearing and audio description and didactic applications of AVT Many countries languages transfer modes audiences and genres are considered in order to provide the reader with a wide overview of the current state of the art in the field This volume will be of interest not only for researchers teachers and students in linguistics translation and film studies but also to translators and language professionals who want to expand their sphere of activity

Audiovisual Translation in Applied Linguistics Laura Incalcaterra McLoughlin,Jennifer

Lertola,Noa Talav  n,2020-11-15 In recent years interest in the application of audiovisual translation AVT techniques in language teaching has grown beyond unconnected case studies to create a lively network of methodological intertextuality cross references reviews and continuation of previous trials ultimately defining a recognisable and scalable trend Whilst the use of AVT as a support in language teaching is not new this volume looks at a different application of AVT with learners involved in the audiovisual translation process itself performing tasks such as subtitling dubbing or audio describing It

therefore presents a sample of the current research in this field with particular reference to case studies that either have a large scale or international dimension or can be scaled and replicated in various contexts It is our hope that these contributions will arouse the interest of publishers of language learning material and other stakeholders and ultimately lead to the mainstreaming of AVT in language education Originally published as special issue of Translation and Translanguaging in Multilingual Contexts 4 1 2018

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Politics Jonathan Evans,Fruea Fernandez,2018-04-19 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Politics presents the first comprehensive state of the art overview of the multiple ways in which politics and translation interact Divided into four sections with thirty three chapters written by a roster of international scholars this handbook covers the translation of political ideas the effects of political structures on translation and interpreting the politics of translation and an array of case studies that range from the Classical Mediterranean to contemporary China Considering established topics such as censorship gender translation under fascism translators and interpreters at war as well as emerging topics such as translation and development the politics of localization translation and interpreting in democratic movements and the politics of translating popular music the handbook offers a global and interdisciplinary introduction to the intersections between translation and interpreting studies and politics With a substantial introduction and extensive bibliographies this handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation theory politics and related areas
