Research Methods in Environmental Law Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos, Victoria Brooks, 2017-11-24 This timely Handbook brings innovative free thinking and radical approaches to research methods in environmental law With a comprehensive approach it brings together key concepts such as sustainability climate change activism education and Actor Network Theory It considers how the Anthropocene subjects environmental law to critique and to the needs of the variety of bodies human and non human that require its protection This much needed book provides a theoretically informed analysis of methodological approaches in the discipline such as constitutional analysis rights based approaches spatial geographical analysis immersive methodologies and autoethnography which will aid in the practical critique and re imagining of Environmental Law

The Oxford Handbook of the Bible and Ecology Hilary Marlow, Mark Harris, 2022 Does the Bible have anything to contribute to contemporary concerns about the environment This collection of essays on the Bible and ecology explores biblical texts and their interpretation in the light of ecological issues The handbook covers a number of political and ethical issues as well as offering detailed exploration of individual Bible books It discusses a number of controversial views including whether the Judeo Christian tradition has contributed to the environmental crisis and how the Bible is used by climate change deniers      Gaia's Web Karen Bakker, 2024-04-16 A riveting exploration of one of the most important dilemmas of our time will digital technology accelerate environmental degradation or could it play a role in ecological regeneration At the uncanny edge of the scientific frontier Gaia's Web explores the promise and pitfalls the Digital Age holds for the future of our planet Instead of the Internet of Things environmental scientist and tech entrepreneur Karen Bakker asks why not consider the Internet of Living Things At the surprising and inspiring confluence of our digital and ecological futures Bakker explores how the tools of the Digital Age could be mobilized to address our most pressing environmental challenges from climate change to biodiversity loss Interspersed with ten elegiac enigmatic parables each of which is based on an existing technology Gaia's Web evokes the conundrums we face as the World Wide Web intertwines with the Web of Life A new generation of innovators is deploying digital technology to come to the aid of the planet using spy satellites to track down environmental criminals inviting animals to the Metaverse and biohacking Frankenstein like biobots as environmental sentinels But will they end up doing more harm than good In an engaging take on conservation technology Bakker looks at the digital tech applications to environmental issues from predatory harvesting of environmental data to human bycatch and eco surveillance capitalism If we address these issues and mobilize digitally mediated forms of citizen science she argues digital tech could help reverse environmental harms and advance environmental sustainability And in the process Big Tech might be transformed for the better With its uniquely broad scope combining insights from computer science ecology engineering environmental science and environmental law Gaia's Web introduces profoundly novel ways of addressing our most pressing environmental challenges mitigating climate change protecting endangered species and creating new possibilities for ecological justice by empowering nonhumans to participate in environmental regulation

Mendel's Ark Amy Lynn Fletcher, 2014-09-19 Does extinction have to be forever As the global extinction crisis accelerates conservationists and policy makers increasingly use advanced biotechnologies such as reproductive cloning polymerase chain reaction PCR and bioinformatics in the urgent effort to save species Mendel's Ark considers the ethical cultural and social implications of using these tools for wildlife conservation Drawing upon sources ranging from science to science fiction it focuses on the stories we tell about extinction and the meanings we ascribe to nature and technology The use of biotechnology in conservation is redrawing the boundaries between animals and machines nature and artifacts and life and death The new rhetoric and practice of de extinction will thus have significant repercussions for wilderness and for society The degree to which we engage collectively with both the prosaic and the fantastic aspects of biotechnological conservation will shape the boundaries and ethics of our desire to restore lost worlds      Leaving Your Mark Simon Verduijn, 2014-10-22 This book reports on Simon Verduijn's 1985 PhD research on a variety of individuals who try to leave their mark on the IJsselmeer area the Netherlands These individuals are regarded as policy entrepreneurs people that strategically employ framing and networking strategies to advocate or oppose policy change by setting the public policy and political agendas The book discusses relevant literature on policy entrepreneurship framing and networking strategies and agenda setting The empirical research comprises an in depth study of four cases involving semi structured interviews document study and newspaper article analysis The first case selected concerns the Second Delta Committee which set the agenda for water safety and climate adaptation in the Dutch Delta and recommended a substantial increase in the water level of the IJsselmeer The second case concentrates on policy entrepreneurs who pushed for a change in Dutch nature policy advocating a focus on nature development over nature preservation The third case considers policy entrepreneurs support or opposition to plans to realise outer dike urbanisation and build an infrastructural connection either a bridge or tunnel through the Markermeer IJmeer The final case looks at policy entrepreneurs who advocated or opposed plans to create large clusters of wind turbines close to the historical village of Urk The study reveals how policy entrepreneurs employ various framing and networking strategies exploit the use of visualisations frame issues at stake differently and frame themselves and others Insights are also offered into how policy entrepreneurs cope with the enabling and constraining factors of context with their various strategies resulting in successes as well as failures

Changing Heritage Francesco Bandarin, 2024-04-09 Changing Heritage presents the most comprehensive analysis of heritage issues available today Critically analysing the complexity of the current and forthcoming issues faced by heritage it presents insightful directions for the future Drawing on the author's many years of experience working in senior positions at UNESCO the book presents discussions of heritage sites all around the world Today our cultural and natural legacies face significant threats due to social and economic developments political pressures and unresolved historical issues This book delves into these threats from two distinct perspectives internal tensions and external pressures The internal tensions include the disregard for human rights and gender equality the increasing exploitation of heritage for political purposes the development of post colonial perspectives and the necessity to reassess the established notion of universal value External pressures stem from global processes unsustainable tourism political conflicts ethnic clashes and religious strife that are causing destruction in numerous parts of the world Examining the dynamics between heritage and these internal tensions and external pressures Bandarin offers insights into the challenges faced and emphasises the imperative role of civil society in safeguarding the value of heritage for present and future generations Changing Heritage explores a wide range of issues surrounding the crisis in heritage management on an international level It will be essential reading for heritage scholars students and professionals

Managing the Return of the Wild Michaela Fenske, Bernhard Tschöfen, 2020-07-08 This book explores attitudes and strategies towards the return of the wild in times of ecological crisis focusing on wolves in Europe The contributions from a variety of disciplines discuss human encounters with wolves engaging with traditional narratives and contemporary conflicts Covering a range of geographical areas the case studies featured demonstrate the tremendous impact of the return of the wolf in European societies Wolves are a keystone species that exemplify humanity's relation to what is called nature and their return generates powerful debates about what nature actually is and how much it is needed or should be permitted to exist The book considers the return of the wild as a catalyst for fundamental socio biological changes of the world within human societies and the various responses of humans to wolves demonstrate both our potential and limitations when it comes to multispecies communities and negotiating societal change Managing the Return of the Wild will be relevant to a broad audience interested in discussions of social and ecological conflict today including scholars from multispecies studies and diverse disciplines such as biology forestry management and folklore studies     Authentic Movement Mary Starks Whitehouse, Patrizia Pallaro, 1999 Authentic Movement is a discipline aiding the creative process in choreography writing theatre and expressive arts This work traces its foundations principles developments and uses     The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009     Authentic Movement: Moving the Body, Moving the Self, Being Moved Patrizia Pallaro, 2007-01-15 This second volume on Authentic Movement a new discipline aiding the creative process in the expressive arts is an engaging and dynamic collection of scholarly essays personal stories practical suggestions and resources It reflects cutting edge work on creative expression meditative discipline and psychotherapeutic endeavour     Ciência da informação , 2010     Special Education Practice James L.
