Ngos States And Donors Too Close For Comfort International Political Economy Series:

NGOs, States and Donors David Hulme, Michael Edwards, 1997 This book provides the most detailed study of the ways in which NGO state donor relationships have changed the role that NGOs play in development. The authors conclude that evidence suggests NGOs are now disempowered from the poor they seek to assist

The Elusive Promise of NGOs in Africa S. Dicklitch, 1998-07-13

Dicklitch challenges the dominant discourse of neo liberalism which places NGOs and civil society at the forefront of democratization and development in Africa. Based on nine months of field research in Uganda the study draws on evidence from the successfully liberalizing country and shows how NGO potential for democratization and development has been subverted by state directives structural and historical conditions as well as the internal limitations of NGOs

Credit and Reduction of Poverty in Uganda William Muhumuza, 2007 Uganda's National Resistance Movement NRM government has used credit as one of the policy strategies to reduce poverty levels. This study examines the effectiveness of that policy. It traces the ascendancy to power of NRM in 1986 when the country was in crisis devastated by years of political turmoil and economic mismanagement and illustrates how the NRM with the assistance of the World Bank and the IMF embarked on a multi pronged strategy to reconstruct the economy and improve living conditions. Issues explored are the extent to which the sweeping reforms impacted on the welfare of the rural poor the extent to which credit programmes have economically empowered the rural poor and further examines whether credit initiatives created economic sustainability for the beneficiaries. Dr William Muhumuza is an Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science at Makerere University. He specialises in the study of political economy with a focus on rural development and good governance.

Journal of Economic Literature, 1997    African Democracy and Development Cassandra Rachel Veney, Dick Simpson, 2013 Various African nations have undergone conflict situations since they gained their independence. This book focuses on particular countries that have faced conflict civil wars and genocide and are now in the process of rebuilding their political economic social and educational institutions. The countries that are addressed in the book include Rwanda, Mozambique, Sierra Leone, Liberia and the Democratic Republic of the Congo. In addition there is a chapter that addresses the role of the African Diaspora in conflict and post conflict countries that include Eritrea, Liberia and Somalia. The book includes an examination of the various actors who are involved in post conflict rebuilding and reconstruction that involves internal and external participants. For example it is clear that the internal actors involve Africans themselves as ordinary citizens, members of local and national governments and members of non governmental organizations. This allows the reader to understand the agency and empowerment of Africans in post conflict reconstruction. Various institutions are addressed within the context of the roles they play in establishing governance organizations such as the Truth and Reconciliation Commission in Sierra Leone, the African Union, chiefs in Liberia and non governmental organizations. Furthermore the external actors who are involved in post conflict reconstruction are examined such as international non governmental organizations and the African Diaspora They both have their own constituents and agendas and can and do play a positive and negative role in post conflict reconstruction It is obvious that countries that are addressed in the book are in dire need of financial assistance to rebuild much needed infrastructure that was destroyed during the conflict All of the countries covered in the book need schools medical facilities roads bridges airports ports and the government does not have the money to provide these This is where the international non governmental organizations and the African Diaspora play an important role The chapters that address these issues are cognizant of their importance and at the same time the authors realize that sovereignty can be undermined if Africans are not in the forefront of policy and decision making that will determine their future There are chapters that provide a gendered analysis of post conflict when it is appropriate For example it is clear that women men boys and girls experienced conflict in different ways because of their gender They all participated in the conflict in various ways Consequently the efforts at peace building are given a gendered analysis in terms of what has happened to women and girls in the demobilization and rehabilitation period including an excellent analysis of land reform in Rwanda and how that affects women and members of a certain ethnic group that are often overlooked in the examination of the 1994 genocide This book provides a very good contribution to the literature on conflict and post conflict African countries because of its depth and the vast topics it embraces It provides an analysis of the internal and external actors the role of gender in post conflict decision making and it provides the voices of ordinary Africans who were affected by the conflict and who are determined to live productive lives

Adapted Farming in West Africa Frieder Graef,Peter Lawrence,Matthias von Oppen,2000 Global Civil Society and Its Limits G. Laxer,S. Halperin,2003-04-30 This volume critically examines the promise of a global civil society Exploring issues in cases of diverse social justice movements the contributors show that a global civil society is still far from emerging and its promotion may even harm the realization of grassroots democracy The Internet is an exciting new means for activists to communicate internationally and citizens movements increasingly co ordinate campaigns through transnational advocacy networks but most effective civic action still takes place at national and local levels

Challenging Global Finance Elizabeth Friesen,2012-01-25 Friesen demonstrates how transnational CSOs and NGOs can influence the context in which international political decisions are made She shows how by reframing the issues the transnational campaign for the cancellation of third world debt altered the dominant discourse shifted the agenda and thereby shaped political outcomes Forum for Development Studies ,2006 Structural Flaws in the Middle East Process J. W. Wright Jr,2002-02-07 Negotiations between Israel and the Arab states have continued in one form or another for over a decade through three Israeli administrations the death of a King of Jordan and through countless riots and incidences of protest by Palestinians and Jews alike The agreements that have been reached and some situations established by defacto rule and force majeure have created possibly irreversible economic and political structures This collection presents a debate among eminent scholars and public officials over the power these structures engender in the region Agriculture and Human

Values ,2008 David vs. Goliat? Olga Lucía Castillo Ospina,2006 Climate Change 2007: Mitigation of climate change ,2007 Environment and Planning ,2007 Civil Society, NGOs, and Decent Work Policies Lucio Baccaro,2001 The Role of Civic Organizations in the Provision of Social Services Mark Robinson,Gordon White,1997 The Role of Civic Organizations in the Provision of Social Services Towards Synergy assesses the relative strengths limitations of civic organizations as providers of social services Researchers policy makers who are searching for better ways of organizing social service provisions in developing countries will find this publication of great interest The publication is part of the Research for Action series which discusses policy oriented research on the main strategic issues of development international cooperation as well as on the interaction between domestic global changes Location Decisions and Nongovernmental Organization Motivation Varun Gauri,Anna Fruttero,2003 Democracy and Donors in Indonesia Annette Clear,2002

Facts about European NGOs Active in International Development Adèle Woods,Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development and Development Centre,2000 This statistical analysis demonstrates that NGOs have moved out of the amateur world in which they were once confined into in many cases highly professional activities and that they have become major partners for governments in the development field The United Nations And Changing World Politics Thomas G Weiss,David P Forsythe,Roger A Coate,1997-08-21 In this fresh thematic text the authors bring the UN alive from its historical foundations to its expanding role in the post Cold War arena Students of all levels will learn what the UN is how it operates and what its relationships are with external actors and institutions Using insights from their practical as well as academic experience with the UN the authors show how the UN has influenced norms and operations in three key areas security human rights and sustainable development and provide recommendations for improved UN performance in the future Well documented and illustrated The United Nations and Changing World Politics is essential to a comprehensive and contemporary understanding of the world s leading intergovernmental organization
