Britain's Industrial Revolution in 100 Objects John Broom, 2023-02-22 The period of Britain's Industrial Revolution was perhaps the most transformative era in the nation's history. Between about 1750 and 1914 life and work, home and school, church and community changed irreversibly for Britain's rapidly expanding population. Lives were transformed, some for the better but many endured abysmal domestic and workplace conditions. Eventually improvements were made to Britain's social fabric which led to the prospect of richer and more fulfilled lives for working men, women and even children. Focusing on 100 objects that either directly influenced or arose from these changes, John Broom offers a distinctive insight into this fascinating age. With plentiful illustrations and suggestions for visits to hundreds of places of historical interest, this book makes an ideal companion for a journey into Britain's industrial past.

The Canal Builders Anthony Burton, 2015-11-30 Canal Builders is a classic history book for anyone interested in the development of Britain's canal system. The book, which was first published in the 1970s, is now republished here in a new fifth edition. It takes the reader from the middle of the eighteenth century to the start of the railway age in the early nineteenth century. Anthony Burton has revised and improved the original text using new material that he has found in archives since it was first published and has added many extra illustrations. This is the remarkable story of the many groups of people who were responsible for building Britain's canal system. There were industrialists such as Josiah Wedgwood who promoted canals to help his own industry and speculators financed the projects in the hope of a good return. The work was planned by engineers, some of whom such as James Brindley and Thomas Telford have become famous, while others have remained virtually unknown but still did magnificent work. This is also the story of the great anonymous army of men who actually did the work, the navvies. This was the first book ever to study the lives of these labourers in detail. Altogether it is an epic story of how the transport route that made the industrial revolution possible was built. Well planned and well written. There is no better introduction to the early canal age. The Economist Links End Links Author End Author Book of Canals Nigel Crowe, 1994 The birth of the inland waterways network over 200 years ago changed the face of the countryside forever. Canals were the heavy goods routes of pre-railway Britain. In this book, Nigel Crowe recaptures the atmosphere of this momentous transport revolution which can be seen today in the surviving 2000 miles of canals now managed by British Waterways.

Great British Plans Ian Wray, 2015-09-25 Can the British plan? Sometimes it seems unlikely. Across the world we see grand designs and visionary projects: new airport terminals, nuclear power stations, high speed railways and glittering buildings. It all seems an unattainable goal on Britain's small and crowded island, and yet perhaps this is too pessimistic. For the British have always planned, and much of what they have today is the result of past plans successfully implemented. Ranging widely from London's squares and the new city of Milton Keynes to High Speed One, the motorways and the secret first electronic computers, Ian Wray's remarkable book puts successful infrastructure plans under the microscope Who made these plans and what made them stick How does this reflect the defining characteristics of British government And what does that say about the individuals who drew them up and saw them through In so doing the book casts refreshing new light on how big decisions have actually been made revealing the hidden sources of drive and initiative in British society as seen through the lens of plans past And it asks some searching questions about the mechanisms we might need for successful plans future in Britain and elsewhere Includes foreword by the Right Honourable the Lord Heseltine CH     Canals in a Changing Britain Jules P. Gehrke, 2024-12-15 This book assesses canals as a major technological system re shaping Britons relationship with their landscape and environment between 1760 and 1968 and argues this 200 year arc of historical experience is essential to understanding canals as sites of recreation leisure heritage and experience of the natural environment     The Good Britain Guide 2002 Alisdair Aird, Fiona Stapley, 2001 If you ve ever been stuck in a dull town or just stuck in the house on a rainy day The Good Britain Guide is what you need County by county the guide lists the most interesting and entertaining places to visit the most best value hotels and B Bs the most enjoyable restaurants and cafes and the most beautiful locations Essential for families friends and adults on a break away it is a totally reliable travelling companion You should never leave home without it     The Illustrated London News ,1955     Architectural Publications Index ,2001     The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009     The Builder ,1899     Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper John Albert Sleicher, 1877     International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2008 Europa Publications, 2007-08-23 An invaluable source of information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world     Willing's Press Guide ,1996 A guide to the press of the United Kingdom and to the principal publications of Europe Australia the Far East Gulf States and the U S A     Book Review Digest ,1984 Excerpts from and citations to reviews of more than 8 000 books each year drawn from coverage of 109 publications Book Review Digest provides citations to and excerpts of reviews of current juvenile and adult fiction and nonfiction in the English language Reviews of the following types of books are excluded government publications textbooks and technical books in the sciences and law Reviews of books on science for the general reader however are included The reviews originate in a group of selected periodicals in the humanities social sciences and general science published in the United States Canada and Great Britain Publisher     Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory Carolyn Farquhar Ulrich, 1999     The Engineer ,1870     The Journal of the Armed Forces ,1882     Water Power ,1972     The Railway Magazine ,1994
