This also highlights in a comprehensive manner specific technologies that are impacting the tourism industry in Asia as well as the constraints the industry is facing. The contents of this book deal with distinct topics such as mobile computing, new product designs, innovative technology usages in tourism, promotion technology, driven sustainable tourism development, location based apps, mobility accessibility, and so on. A good number of research studies have conducted outlining the contributions and importance of technologies in tourism in general. However, the tourism industry of Asia so far has attracted very few researchers. Some contributions have been made but not sufficient. Considering the ongoing trend of technology application in the tourism industry in Asia, very few research attempts have been made aiming to explore diverse aspects. Tourism is expanding enormously across the world which actually creates more demands for effective technologies. This book will be a reading companion especially for tourism students in higher academic institutions. This book will also be read by the relevant policy planners and industry professionals. Apart from them, this book will be appreciated by expatriate researchers and researchers having keen interest in the Asian tourism industry. Educating Media Literacy Allison T.

Butler, 2019-10-21. Critical media literacy is a necessary part of young people's education and can foster the space for a more thoroughly informed and involved citizenry. In order to make critical media literacy sustainable in K-12 classrooms, learning and application of it must begin with teachers, preferably during their formal schooling. Educating Media Literacy is a manifesto for the inclusion of media literacy in teacher education and by extension in K-12 classrooms. Through a discussion of critical media literacy's aims and the role of teacher education in the United States, this book argues for the inclusion of critical media literacy in teacher education. Educating Media Literacy addresses two separate topics: teacher education and media literacy and illustrates how they are intertwined. The United States struggles simultaneously with how best to train and retain prospective teachers and how to foster a better understanding of mainstream media. These two struggles can join forces and move towards a solution through the following: The inclusion of critical media literacy in teacher education programs.
