

Narrative interview

- Narrative interview is one of the least structured versions of interviewing; is not based on a list of fixed questions
- The question-answer pair does not constitute a good interview (Official interrogation?)
- Primary objective: to encourage people to tell their stories based on their own experiences and meaning-making
- Interview questions always pre-frame and pre-conceptualize the answers ->
- Good interviews have fewer questions and fewer turn-takings - bad interviews contain lot of (detailed) questions and answers

Handbook of Longitudinal Research Methods in Organisation and Business Studies Melanie E. Hassett, Eriikka Paavilainen-Mäntymäki, 2013-01-01 This Handbook is a very timely contribution to organization and business studies Most calls for longitudinal research are made in sections of published work that deal with limitations of the study or suggestions for further research This book places longitudinal research methods at center stage With its practical hands on approach it guides us how to design a longitudinal study in and around organizations whether qualitative or quantitative and how to implement it I warmly recommend this Handbook to ambitious senior and junior researchers It makes the commonly presented excuses for not undertaking longitudinal research completely redundant Rebecca Piekkari Aalto University School of Business in Helsinki Finland This is a very timely book that fills an important gap in the field of research methods So far very little attention has been paid to longitudinal research methods while the usefulness of this type of research has often been discussed in many papers and conferences Insights provided by scholars who have been doing this type of research provide useful guidelines for anyone interested in research methods from senior scholars to young researchers and PhD candidates This volume will serve as an excellent complement to the existing range of books on research methods Pervez Ghauri Kings College London UK This innovative Handbook demonstrates that there is no single best approach to conducting longitudinal studies At their best longitudinal research designs yield rich contextualised multilevel and deep understanding of the studied phenomenon The lack of resources in terms of time funding and people can pose a serious challenge to conducting longitudinal research This book tackles many of these challenges and discusses the role of longitudinal research programmes in overcoming such obstacles This book shows how longitudinal research methods enable the understanding of dynamics mechanisms causalities and interrelationships of organizational and business concepts in context and in relation to time It discusses the richness and versatility of longitudinal research and offers to students and experienced scholars alike numerous viewpoints reflections and personal accounts about conducting longitudinal research from planning and fieldwork to reporting and managing of research projects

Interviews as Activated Storytelling Amir B. Marvasti, Jaber F. Gubrium, 2025-05-30 Challenging the sanitized view of participants in standardized surveys Interviews as Activated Storytelling contends that interviewing is a meaning making process producing useful but context sensitive knowledge Through a series of case studies the book illustrates that participants are not simply there for asking and answering but inquire and respond in terms of attendant interests and social worlds Interview interaction and interpretation must take these into account against standardization In two parts chapters explore how conditions of the interview process contexts and conceptions of interview participants subjectivities narratively inform and shape activate interviewing and its results Together with the previously published book Crafting Ethnographic Fieldwork Sites Selves and Social Worlds insights into the full range of procedural issues in qualitative research are offered Entrepreneurial Strategies of Professional Service Firms Andreas B. Günther, 2019-02-19 Over the past years knowledge intensive industries have gained significant importance as economic factor giving rise to professional service firms PSFs such as law firms accounting firms or consultancies Following this development the research interest especially in the strategies pursued by PSFs has grown substantially However past research focused mainly on strategies of established mature PSFs leaving academics as well as potential entrepreneurs without guidance on what newly founded entrepreneurial PSFs should pay attention to in order to ensure lasting competitive advantages Based on an explorative grounded theory analysis of two outstanding commercial law firm spin offs in Germany this work advances the research in this field In addition to a detailed case study report it offers a comprehensive theoretical framework and argues that PSFs have to employ a set of seven specific entrepreneurial strategies including for example servicedelivery people development and client acquisition strategies in order to successfully manage the entrepreneurial phase In providing examples for the growing PSF industry the findings on commercial law firm spin offs also inform entrepreneurship research in other professions

Conducting Lightly Structured Depth Biographical Narrative Interviews Mojca Pajnik, 2009 The Routledge International Handbook on Narrative and Life History Ivor Goodson, Ari Antikainen, Pat Sikes, Molly Andrews, 2016-10-04 In recent decades there has been a substantial turn towards narrative and life history study The embrace of narrative and life history work has accompanied the move to postmodernism and post structuralism across a wide range of disciplines sociological studies gender studies cultural studies social history literary theory and most recently psychology Written by leading international scholars from the main contributing perspectives and disciplines The Routledge International Handbook on Narrative and Life History seeks to capture the range and scope as well as the considerable complexity of the field of narrative study and life history work by situating these fields of study within the historical and contemporary context Topics covered include The historical emergences of life history and narrative study Techniques for conducting life history and narrative study Identity and politics Generational history Social and psycho social approaches to narrative history With chapters from expert contributors this volume will prove a comprehensive and authoritative resource to students researchers and educators interested in narrative theory analysis and interpretation

The Problem-Centred Interview Andreas Witzel, Herwig

Reiter, 2012-07-06 Andreas Witzel and Herwig Reiter present the first English book about this popular and widely recognized method and introduce it to the international research community The comprehensive and hands on introduction to methodology principles and practice of this particular technique is organized along the logical steps of preparing doing and processing PCIs The authors use many practical examples from their own problem centered research to illustrate each stage as well as common interviewing pitfalls and errors The Problem Centred Interview also demonstrates how to work with sensitizing prior knowledge in the context of interview research The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research in the Asian Context Safary Wa-Mbaleka, Arceli Rosario, 2022-05-05 Spanning the full research process from philosophy and ethics to design and methods and through data collection management analysis and dissemination this handbook focuses specifically on the practicalities needed to conduct effective and culturally responsive research in the Asian context Narrative Inquiry Kathleen Wells, 2011 This pocket guide presents a reader friendly introduction to narrative inquiry It addresses major aspects of the design and implementation of a narrative research project emphasizing established and emerging approaches to the analysis of narrative data Ethics and Process in the Narrative Study of Lives Ruthellen Josselson, 1996-03-14 In taking up the topic of ethics and narrative inquiry The Narrative Study of Lives rightfully establishes itself as the site where the most critical theoretical methodological and interpretive work on narrative in the human disciplines is now occurring The editor and the contributors to this volume are to be thanked for their deeply probing forward looking analyses of the ethical problems that arise when researchers produce narratives about persons with whom close personal relationships have been formed Norman K Denzin University of Illinois Urbana Champaign All of us who work with life history narratives are grateful to Dr Josselson and her colleagues for moving us step by step toward a discipline with definable ethics and methodology and at the same time holding up for us the incredible diversity of the field and the range of insights it offers Mary Catherine Bateson author of Peripheral Visions The most significant truths about human beings are to be found in the stories of their lives But what happens to those stories and to the people whose lives are told when a researcher seeks to make those stories known Ruthellen Josselson has assembled an international cast of scholars to reflect on the process of life narrative study and the ethical dilemmas that face researchers whose very mode of narrative inquiry may inevitably involve a violation of another and unwittingly lead to a sense of betrayal shame or guilt In these disarmingly candid and engaging essays narrative researchers of many different stripes talk about the morally delicate and epistemologically precarious enterprise of telling another s story The authors raise fascinating questions about who ultimately controls the tellings what happens to stories once they are told and why stories influence not only the people whose lives are told but also the tellers themselves whose own professional and personal lives may even be captured by or appropriated into the stories they are aiming to tell This exceptional volume the latest in The Narrative Study of Lives series is essential for researchers professionals and students in research methods including qualitative methods developmental psychology education relationships and language and
