Latino and African American Athletes Today David L. Porter, 2004-03-30. The first comprehensive multisport biographical resource to concentrate exclusively on the accomplishments, achievements, and personal struggles of notable African American and Latino American athletes of the last quarter century.

Standing Tall Sam Carchidi, 2008. In the matter of a few seconds, a strong promising young Buffalo Bills player lay paralyzed and very mortal after a violent collision on the second half kickoff return during the opening weekend of the 2007 NFL season. Kevin Everett, tight end and special teams player, went helmet to helmet with Denver Broncos return man Domenik Hixon with all the force a 6'4" 260-pound 25-year-old can muster while running full bore. Fate was on Kevin's side. Only a few days prior, the medical training staff had practiced a spinal cord drill supervised by Dr. Andrew Cappuccino, an orthopedic surgeon. Dr. Cappuccino was on the sidelines during this game as a regular member of the Buffalo Bills medical staff, one of the few NFL teams to be so staffed. Cappuccino determined that Everett was quadriplegic as he lay on the field of Ralph Wilson Stadium. And so began a real-life drill. While controversial and aggressive medical care, Kevin began a tougher challenge than any Sunday football warrior.

Indians in Unexpected Places Philip Joseph Deloria, 2004. Despite the passage of time, our vision of Native Americans remains locked up within powerful stereotypes. That's why some images of Indians can be so unexpected and disorienting. What is Geronimo doing sitting in a Cadillac? Why is an Indian woman in beaded buckskin sitting under a salon hairdryer? Such images startle and challenge our outdated visions, even as the latter continue to dominate relations between Native and non-Native Americans. Philip Deloria explores this cultural discordance to show how stereotypes and Indian experiences have competed for ascendancy in the wake of the military conquest of Native America and the nation's subsequent embrace of Native authenticity. Rewriting the story of the national encounter with modernity, Deloria provides revealing accounts of Indians doing unexpected things: singing opera, driving cars, acting in Hollywood in ways that suggest new directions for American Indian history. Focusing on the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, a time when, according to most standard American narratives, Indian people almost dropped out of history itself, Deloria argues that a great many Indians engaged the very same forces of modernization that were leading non-Indians to reevaluate their own understandings of themselves and their society. He examines longstanding stereotypes of Indians as invariably violent suggesting that even as such views continued in American popular culture they were also transformed by the violence at Wounded Knee He tells how Indians came to represent themselves in Wild West shows and Hollywood films and also examines sports music and even Indian people s use of the automobile an ironic counterpoint to today s highways teeming with Dakota pick ups and Cherokee sport utility vehicles Throughout Deloria shows us anomalies that resist pigeonholing and force us to rethink familiar expectations Whether considering the Hollywood films of James Young Deer or the Hall of Fame baseball career of pitcher Charles Albert Bender he persuasively demonstrates that a significant number of Indian people engaged in modernity and helped shape its anxieties and its textures at the very moment they were being defined as primitive These secret histories Deloria suggests compel us to reconsider our own current expectations about what Indian people should be how they should act and even what they should look like More important he shows how such seemingly harmless even if unconscious expectations contribute to the racism and injustice that still haunt the experience of many Native American people today The Sporting News ,1982 Current Biography Yearbook ,2011 The Official NFL Encyclopedia of Pro Football National Football League Properties, inc. Creative Services Division,1982 100 Greatest Running Backs Bob Carroll,1989 First and Goal Dave Branon,1996 Look past their helmets pads and uniforms and you ll find a big surprise a thriving growing faith in Christ Dave Branon profiles more than a dozen NFL Christian football players including Reggie White Trent Dilfer and Junior Seau Learn how these men came to Christ and how they serve God not only on the field but also in the game of life Library Journal ,2009
