Research Handbook on University Rankings Hazelkorn, Ellen, Mihut, Georgiana, 2021-12-10

Gathering unique and thoughtful contributions from leading international scholars this timely Research Handbook offers diverse perspectives on university rankings twenty years after the first global rankings emerged It presents an in depth analysis that reflects the current state of research on rankings their influence and impact World University Rankings Kay Cheng Soh, 2017 World university ranking started one and a half decades ago for the purpose of understanding what makes an excellent institution of higher education Subsequent to the appearance of the Academic Ranking of World Universities at the Shanghai Jiaotong University there soon emerged the QS World University Rankings and the Times Higher Education World University Rankings These three ranking systems are considered the classics as they are the fore runners although no less than ten new systems have come to the arena The various ranking systems adopt a common approach of weight and sum to process the indicator data Each system somewhat arbitrarily decides on a set of indicators and assigns different weights to these presumably reflecting their relative importance This simple and simplistic approach meets well common sense And in fact much of the discussion on world university rankings is conducted at the commonsensical level However analyses conducted in the recent years uncovered several problems of the prevalent approach spurious precision mutual compensation weight discrepancy indicator redundancy etc which render the overall scores and ranking suspect in terms of validity These are due to systems ignoring the fact that world university rankings are a form of social measurement and therefore need be seen from this perspective Moreover rankings encourage competition and in the highly competitive world of today it is natural that institutional attention is focused on the ranking results By now the original purpose of world university ranking seems to have been overshadowed and world university rankings look more like international academic contests as though they are annual sports meets This monograph collects together many articles pertaining to the identified measurement and statistical issues of world university rankings and suggests remedies to make ranking results more trustworthy
