Labor Day

Labor Day is a day of celebration and community for the hard workers in September. Labor Day is a Federal Holiday in the United States.

What is Labor Day About?

The funny thing about Labor Day is that it is the one day off the year we don't expect to be spent in the office or the work by not doing anything. But it is important that people have jobs, and then we can, on Labor Day, remember the value of labor day and think it out off our thoughts for an entire long weekend.

Today is an oddity in that it is a day of unemployment, that is, people are not doing it. On a period of unemployment, there is ample work, because like the greatest and most long-term opportunity of all, work is the cornerstone of a successful society. Whether it is building a house or cleaning a building, serving customers or preparing a meal or taking a walk or hospital bed. Our daily lives are built on hard work and effort.

Labor Day is the celebration of you, the American worker! It is your hard work that builds the future of the American worker, the driving engine behind the most productive economy in the world, and the American worker is the most influential in one of the highest standard-of-living in the world. All of this come out of hard work, dedication and grit and determination.

Of course, Labor Day not only celebrated the American workers that work hard and with quality of life. Back in the late 1800s, the Labor movement was created to add more power of the various problems of the day including long working hours and back off time off.

What Does it Mean?

1. Labor Day is celebrated annually on September 1st. (T, F)
2. We don't work on Labor Day. (T, F)
3. There are many things considered when Labor Day is celebrated. (T, F)
4. We like work without the doing it. (T, F)
5. It doesn't cost for what we do at work, we do it for money to support our needs. (T, F)
6. Labor Day honors the employee. (T, F)
7. American workers are important for one of the highest standard-of-living in the world. (T, F)
8. The Labor movement was created because of poor working conditions like back-off jobs. (T, F)
