AIR CANADA

Q1) what problems does Air Canada hope that Maintenix will solve?

The company information system had plenty of room for improvement. When air Canada technicians worked on planes, they used several different legacy software packages installed over the past 15 years. The system weren't able to interact with one another or with finance and inventory system. The inefficiency of these systems were costing air Canada the time of its engineers and money that could have been used on maintaining its planes, instead of needlessly maintaining excess inventory.

Air Canada turned to Mx technologies for help in addressing these problems. Mx is renowned in the airline industry for its maintaining software package, which provides integrated, intelligent aviation MRO (maintenance, repair, and organizations) software to aviation organizations, hoping to improve productivity.

Q2) how does Maintenix improve operational efficiency and decision-making?

The benefits of Maintenix that interested air Canada were enhanced visibility of fleet-wide data, timelier decision-making, support of its currently existing business model, and increased operational efficiencies.

Maintenix provides a system platform that is accessible via the web and easy to deploy to all stations around the world. Mx claims that their software reduces repetitive tasks and time chasing missing or incomplete information by allowing maintenance, engineering, and finance division to easily share information. Maintenix can supply data to the company's existing enterprise resource planning and financial software, and Air Canada plans to link it up with its PeopleSoft finance and human resource applications. Wireless deployment also makes Maintenix more effective, since aviation technicians, equipment, and parts are always on the move.

Q3) Give examples of three decision supported by the Maintenix system. What information do the Maintenix modules provide to support each these decision?

The Maintenix software package consists of six different modules, which are separate segments of the product that interconnect. The six modules are maintenance engineering, line maintenance, heavy maintenance, shop maintenance, materials maintenance, and finance.

The maintenance engineering module is the foundation of the Maintenix system. It is used to establish the configuration hierarchy, rules, and maintenance program that all of the other modules depend upon. Through this module, the airline can set up a "logically configuration", which describes aircraft components, part relationships, and compatibility rules. For example of how Maintenix will increase air Canada's efficiency might be as follows. An air Canada
