Violence and Crime James F. Anderson, Kelley Reinsmith-Jones, Tazinski P. Lee, 2025-11-06 This book examines the critical connections between criminal justice and public health perspectives on violence and crime. Violent crime involves not only criminal justice agencies but social agencies community groups and public and private healthcare organizations. The authors provide a broad overview of prevalent forms of violence focusing on how criminal justice and public health perspectives converge in the examination of and response to these issues. The book looks at the nexus of public health with problems as varied as assaultive violence child abuse rape and sexual abuse interpersonal violence elder abuse suicide police violence teenage bullying workplace violence firearm injuries and opioid addiction. The authors lay out a structure for an epidemiological approach to studying violent crime and offer policy recommendations for using both criminal justice and public health approaches to prevent violence This volume spotlights the connections between violent crime and public health and urges a consideration of public health in efforts to prevent and control violent crime It is ideal for courses on violence in criminology criminal justice sociology and social work and an invaluable tool for practitioners policymakers researchers advocates and community volunteers in criminal justice public health and social service

Repositioning the victim in criminal justice
Olivier Tell, Gabrielle Browne, 2023-02-01 Following fierce campaigning by victims groups the international community has entered into a debate that aims to move the victim from the margins to the centre of the criminal justice system For the first time restorative justice is explicitly regulated at the European Union legal level as a Victims Directive aims to establish a baseline for its safe implementation across member states This groundbreaking and timely edited collection aims to contribute to this international debate The book aims to challenge current thinking while highlighting good practices that respect and safeguard victims in justice processes The book uses a combination of theoretical and empirical analysis while utilising original research data collected by the European project Restorative Justice in Europe which was coordinated by the Editor Dr Theo Gavrielides Leading experts take bold steps in advancing the debate for a victim led criminal justice system The book also aims to give voice to victims directly by involving them as authors of its chapters case studies and as research participants The book also includes sample training material best practice and guidelines created by the RJE project through the contribution of victims offenders and experts from across Europe As a victim I believe an increased uptake by victims relies strongly on the active implementation by practitioners of the Victims Directive If victims feel empowered by the process they will be more likely to participate in it to the benefit of the victim the offender and the community Gabrielle Browne a victim of sexual assault and a member of the RJE Expert Advisory Group Governments around the world should open a debate about what is the most important for victims in the justice process victim of crime and RJE participant Thank you for your active engagement with the Ministry of Justice in progressing this important project that will help inform future restorative justice policy Gaining the insight of victims offenders and practitioners will be important in considering how restorative justice practice can be made more effective for the public UK Ministry of Justice To cite this ebook Gavrielides T et al 2023 Repositioning the victim in criminal justice a restorative justice evidence based offer London RJ4All Publications ISBN 978 1 911634 74 4 DOI 10 13140 RG 2 2 23974 60483

Restorative Responses to Sexual Violence Estelle Zinsstag,Marie Keenan,2017-02-17 Sexual violence in all its forms is a crime for which anecdotal accounts and scholarly reports suggest victims in their great majority do not receive adequate justice or redress The theory and practice of restorative justice is rapidly developing and offers some well argued new avenues for dealings with crime in general It has the potential to be extended to cases of sexual violence and a number of small scale programmes are already underway across the world Restorative Responses to Sexual Violence examines this innovative justice paradigm in more depth in the particular context of sexual trauma and violence in order to establish the empirical realities of restorative justice approaches in cases of sexual violence and considers how such approaches could be developed adequately in the future This book is divided into two parts each representing a key area of research and practice theoretical and conceptual frameworks and justice and therapeutic perspectives This international collection brings together leading expert scholars and practitioners to offer both theoretical and practical perspectives on restorative justice and sexual violence This book will be of interest to researchers in the field of law criminology psychology social science social work and psychotherapy as well as practitioners in the fields of criminal justice restorative justice and sex offender and victim trauma therapies Victims and Restorative Justice Inge Vanfraechem,Daniela Bolívar

Fernández,Ivo Aertsen,2015-05-15 Restorative justice aims to address the consequences of crime by encouraging victims and offenders to communicate and discuss the harm caused by the crime that has been committed In the majority of cases restorative justice is facilitated by direct and indirect dialogue between victims and offenders but it also includes support networks and sometimes involves professionals such as police lawyers social workers or prosecutors and judges In theory the victim is a core participant in restorative justice and the restoration of the harm is a first concern In practice questions arise as to whether the victim is actively involved in the process what restoration may entail whether there is a risk of secondary victimisation and whether the victim is truly at the heart of the restorative response or whether the offender remains the focal point of attention Using a combination of victimological literature and empirical data from a European research project this book considers the role and the position of the victim in restorative justice practices focusing on legislative organisational and institutional frameworks of victim offender mediation and conferencing programmes at a national and local level as well as the victims personal needs and experiences The findings are essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of justice victimology and law The publication will also be valuable to policymakers and professionals such as social workers lawyers and mediators Monash University Law Review Monash University.
