Animation Behind the Iron Curtain Eleanor Cowen, 2020-09-22 Animation Behind the Iron Curtain is a journey of discovery into the world of Soviet era animation from Eastern Bloc countries From Jerzy Kucia's brutally exquisite Reflections in Poland to the sci fi adventure of Ott in Space by Estonian puppet master Elbert Tuganov to the endearing Gopo's little man by Ion Popescu Gopo in Romania this excursion into Soviet era animation brings to light magnificent art ruminations on the human condition and celebrations of innocence and joy As art reveals the spirit of the times animation art of Eastern Europe during the Cold War funded by the Soviet states allowed artists to create works illuminating to their experiences hopes and fears The political ideology of the time ironically supported these artists while simultaneously suppressing more direct critiques of Soviet life Politics shaped the world of these artists who then fashioned their realities into amazing works of animation Their art is integral to the circumstances in which they lived which is why this book combines the unlikely combination of world politics and animated cartoons The phenomenal animated films shared in this book offer a glimpse into the culture and hearts of Soviet citizens who grew up with characters as familiar and beloved to them as Mickey Mouse and Bugs Bunny are to Americans This book lays out the basic political dynamics of the Cold War and how those political tensions affected the animation industry in both the US and in the Eastern Bloc And for animation novices and enthusiasts alike Animation Behind the Iron Curtain also offers breakout sections to explain many of the techniques and aesthetic considerations that go into this fascinating art form This book is a must read for anyone interested in the Cold War era and really cool animated films

The New Generation in Chinese Animation Shaopeng Chen, 2021-09-23 In 1995 Chinese animated filmmaking ceased to be a state run enterprise and was plunged into the free market Using key animated films as his case studies Shaopeng Chen examines new generation Chinese animation in its aesthetic and industrial contexts He argues that unlike its predecessors this new generation does not have a distinctive national identity but represents an important stage of diversity and exploration in the history of Chinese animation Chen identifies distinct characteristics of new generation filmmaking including an orientation towards young audiences and the recurring figure of the immortal monkey like Sun Wukong He explores how films such as Lotus Lantern Baolian Deng 1999 responded to competition from American imports such as The Lion King 1994 retaining Chinese iconography while at the same time adopting Hollywood aesthetics and techniques Addressing the series Boonie Bears Xiong Chumo 2014 5 Chen focuses on the films adaptation from the original TV series and how the films were promoted across generations and by means of both online and offline channels Discussing the series Kuiba Kui Ba 2011 2013 2014 Chen examines Vasoon Animation Studio's ambitious attempt to create the first Chinese style high fantasy fictional universe and considers why the first film was a critical success but a failure at the box office He also explores the relationship between Japanese anime and new generation Chinese animation Finally Chen considers how word of mouth social media engagement lay behind the success of Monkey King Hero is Back

2015 Plurihistoricity Zoltán Boldizsár Simon, 2025-07-25 This book situates historical scholarship within a plurihistoricity of contemporary historical culture exploring conflicting conceptions of historical change in technological utopias of human enhancement in prospects of human extinction in societal responses to the Anthropocene and in the imperative of bringing colonial patterns of historical injustice to justice Contemporary societies increasingly reclaim history from the academic pursuit of historiography On the one hand societal engagement in history is growing palpably History is literally everywhere in the fallen statues of past political regimes in trajectories of environmental degradation and in technological prospects of space expansion On the other hand societal demand for history seems to diminish rather than strengthen the authority of professionalized historical studies What do these societal historicities stand for How do they create pasts that matter What futures do they desire or attempt to avoid How do they view the historical transitions into those futures And what is the societal role of historical scholarship and scholarly conceptions of history in the plurihistoricity of contemporary historical culture By addressing these questions Simon's book is essential reading for everyone interested in the present and future of viewing the world historically
