High Court. Appellate Division,1989 Crafting Economic Security In The Indo-pacific Region: Concepts, Practices And New Dynamics Alex Chien-wu Hsueh,Masahiro Matsumura,Alan Hao Yang,2025-09-19 This book addresses the up to date development and changing features of Economic Security It corroborates with the concepts policies and dynamics in the Indo Pacific region This book argues that economic security is an important component of national security albeit it shall go beyond the narrowly defined national security which mainly focuses on military security and national defense The central argument of this book identifies at least two forms of transcendence of contemporary economic security The first transcendence is the transcendence beyond the narrow definitions and limited components while the second one prioritizes the transcendence beyond the level of analysis the domestic level in particular Securing economic security is not only a concern of the government at the national level but also a major consideration for regional connectivity and its spill over impact at the international level as well as the maintenance of livelihoods of local society communities and people at the grassroot level

This book demonstrates the joint efforts of transnational scholarship addressing the up to date development and dynamics of economic security in the Indo Pacific region through the lens of interdisciplinary perspectives The contributors of this book include scholars such as leading senior professors of international politics international political economy economics anthropology Southeast Asian Studies research fellows and practitioners such as a lawyer and a CEO of a start up enterprise on green energy and carbon solution foreign policy think tankers technology think tankers cyber security expert and a diplomat former foreign policy officer from India The book contests against two myths The first is that economic security is exclusively state centric This book agrees that the security referent of economic security is mainly the state that is the government Nevertheless this book argues that the referents should be more than the government by advocating that economic security is also tied up with the international community especially for the regional communities based on common strategic goals and shared interests Besides additional referents to economic security should include private sector actors such as enterprises and companies and people sectors such as civil society local communities and people The second is to address the new dynamics of the economic security imposed by the strategic currents such as the US China trade war or Russo Ukraine War which triggered the international attention over economic security that is narrowly defined as the crisis for semiconductor chips supply chain resilience
