Missing Out Praise Unlived Life:

Missing Out Adam Phillips, 2012 All of us lead two parallel lives the life we actually live and the one that we wish for and fantasise about And this life unlived the one that never actually happens the one we might be living but for some reason are not can occupy an extraordinary part of our mental life We share our lives in a sense with the people we have failed to be and this can become itself the story of our lives an elegy to needs unmet desires sacrificed and roads untaken We quickly notice as children that our needs like our wishes are often unmet And we begin then to learn to live somewhere between the lives we have and the lives we would like We become haunted by the myth of our own potential of what we might have it in ourselves to be or to do And this can make of our lives a perpetual falling short a failure to live the good life that we are told is one lived to the full In this elegant compassionate and absorbing book acclaimed psychoanalyst Adam Phillips demonstrates that there might in fact be much to be said for the unlived life Drawing deeply on the works of Shakespeare and of Freud amongst other writers and thinkers he suggests that in missing out on one experience we always open ourselves to the potential of another and that in depriving ourselves of the frustration of not getting what we think we want we would be depriving ourselves of the possibilities of satisfaction The experiences described in this wise and witty book missing out getting away with it getting out of it and not getting it are all chapters in our unlived lives and as Adam Phillips suggests they may in fact be essential to a life fully lived

How Did I Get Here? Jesse Browner, 2015-06-30 A literary exploration that seeks to answer the question Have I lived the life I intended Based on an essay he wrote for Poets Writers magazine Jesse Browner a novelist who finds himself torn between his creative calling and a full time job in the civil service asks hard questions about the choices life imposes on us and our tendency to believe in a parallel alternative existence where we might have felt more fulfilled more free more true to ourselves He wonders Is the genuine artist made by single minded devotion to his craft Do we compromise our dreams in service to family and work In the face of life's inevitable disappointments how do we learn to reassess our own achievements and live without regret These questions prompted Browner to take a hard look at the lifelong journey that brought him to this moment of existential doubt He divides his adult life into five distinct phases ambition love work fulfillment and wisdom Sketching portraits of himself at each stage he looks for the idiosyncrasies blind spots and commonalities that led him to question every assumption he has ever made about who he is and the nature of his ambitions his successes and his failures He also draws on the lives of others from Franz Kafka to indie rocker Elliott Smith to his own sister in search of understanding and guidance What he finds in his courageous quest is inspiring and honest sometimes brutally so touching on what it means to live a life with intention and meaning Gestos, 2015 Love and Choice Lucy Fry, 2022-02-10 What in your relationships have you chosen What would you choose if you felt able In Love and Choice therapist and journalist Lucy Fry explains why relationships should start with these simple questions Most of us are brought up with a blueprint for our most important and
