'91 John S. Gero, 1991 Artificial Intelligence in Design 91 is a collection of 47 papers from the First International Conference on Artificial Intelligence in Design held at Edinburgh in June 1991. The papers in this book are grouped into 13 headings starting with a background of AI design systems and to which extent AI that results from being used as planning tool be applied to quality oriented design processes in architecture. A constraint driven approach to object oriented design is also shown on real world objects. The use of CADSYN in the structural design of buildings is examined along with design dependent knowledge and design independent knowledge. Discussions on empowering designers with integrated design environments are given whereby design objects may be retrieved from catalogues without requiring users to form queries. Mention is given to automated adjustment of parameter values frequently used in computer routine applications. The book also introduces the Computer Aided Design CAD as applied to architecture. Design representation using data models, non monotonic reasoning in design and the cognitive aspects of design using empirical studies are discussed. Topics of the industrial applications of AI in design such as the needed steps to develop a successful AI based tool and a review of the Castlemain Project and telecommunication distribution networks follow. This book is suitable for programmers, computer science students and architects and engineers who use computers in their line of work. PC AI, 2001 Tutorial Guide, 2003 Symposium Record, 1992 Statistisches Handbuch, 1990 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 2001 Humanistic Mathematics Network Journal, 1992 Proceedings American Association for Artificial Intelligence, 2004. Proceedings from the latest meeting of the leading AI conference includes theoretical, experimental and empirical work. The National Conference on Artificial Intelligence remains the bellwether for research in artificial intelligence. Leading AI researchers and practitioners as well as scientists and engineers in related fields present theoretical, experimental and empirical results covering a broad range of topics that include principles of cognition, perception and action, the design application and evaluation of AI algorithms and systems, architectures and frameworks for classes of AI systems and analyses of tasks and domains in which intelligent systems perform. The Innovative Applications of Artificial Intelligence conference highlights successful applications of AI technology, explores issues, methods and lessons learned in the development and deployment of AI applications and promotes an interchange of ideas between basic and applied AI. This volume presents the proceedings of the latest conferences held in July 2004. TIMS/ORSA Bulletin, 1990.
