The authors consider comprehension of different units of language understanding single words sentences and connected prose and outline what readers and listeners have to do to successfully understand an extended text. This book also considers comprehension for different purposes in particular reading for pleasure and reading to learn and explores how reader characteristics such as interest and motivation can influence the comprehension process. Different skills contribute to successful reading comprehension. These include word reading ability vocabulary knowledge syntactic skills memory and discourse level skills such as the ability to make inferences knowledge about text structure and metacognitive skills. The authors discuss how each one contributes to the development of reading comprehension skill and how the development of these skills or their precursors in pre readers provides the foundation for reading comprehension development. Areas covered include Word reading and comprehension Development of comprehension skills Comprehension difficulties Assessment Teaching for improvement.
