Teaching Reading in the Elementary School Thomas G. Devine, 1989 The purpose of this book on reading instruction in the elementary school is twofold firstly to share with colleagues some of the significant works of research and theory that suggest answers to important questions about reading instruction and secondly to describe specific teaching strategies implied by these answers The book assumes that reading is a normal human activity in which children may easily engage sees reading always within the context of the other language arts tends to deemphasize reading skills and hierarchies of skills and focuses more than some books on children's literature and content area reading. After a brief preface and introduction the 9 chapters deal with the following topics: 1 early reading 2 reading familiar words 3 reading unfamiliar words 4 reading to comprehend 5 reading stories 6 reading in the content areas 7 reading to study 8 reading and the other language arts and 9 organizing for instruction. Each of the chapters ends with an Idea Box which presents a variety of suggested strategies for improving reading instruction and appropriate references for further reading and study.

Reading Horizons, 1990. Reading Horizons began in 1960 by Dorothy J McGinnis as a local reading education newsletter and developed into an international journal serving reading educators and researchers. Major colleges, universities, and individuals subscribe to Reading Horizons across the United States, Canada, and a host of other countries. Dedicated to adding to the growing body of knowledge in literacy, the quarterly journal welcomes new and current research, theoretical essays, opinion pieces, policy studies, and best literacy practices. As a peer-reviewed publication, Reading Horizons endeavors to bring school professionals, literacy researchers, teacher educators, parents, and community leaders together in a collaborative community to widen literacy and language arts horizons.
