Multinational Firms And International Relocation New Horizons In International Business:

Multinational Firms and International Relocation Peter J. Buckley,Jean Louis Mucchielli,1997 Recoge 1 Introduction 2 European industrial relocations in low wage countries policy and theory debates 3 Multinational firm strategies and the impact of their location decisions 4 Low wage countries and trade with the European Union 5 International relocation strategies of Italian firms 6 US direct investment abroad and US exports in the manufacturing sector some empirical results based on cross sectional analysis    Foreign Direct Investment and Corporate Networking Robert L. A. Morsink,1998-01-01 This innovative book analyses the geographical patterns in foreign direct investment flows by combining elements from the theory of international production and the theory of economic geography It develops a model for explaining why foreign direct investment is attracted to certain locations Foreign Direct Investment and Corporate Networking will be of interest to economists working in the areas of international trade and investment economic geographers and corporate strategy advisors as well as to policy makers from government and non governmental organisations    Foreign Direct Investment in Japan Masaru Yoshitomi,Edward Montgomery Graham,1996-01-01 The direct participation of foreign firms in the economy of Japan is lower than in any other advanced industrial nation The contributors consider what policy actions if any the Japanese government can take to increase direct investment    Global Competitive Strategies in the New World Economy Hafiz Mirza,1998 This important book provides an exhaustive analysis of the strategic responses of transnational firms to current trends in the world economy specifically the trends towards globalization and regionalization The primary focus of this book is on the strategy of transnational firms particularly those from East Asia in the geographical regions of Europe North America and Asia including the European Union the North American Free Trade Agreement and the ASEAN Free Trade Area The contributors discuss protectionism and trade agreements strategic alliances competitiveness and investment strategy towards Eastern European states and compare business strategies in the triad region The distinguished contributors are from industry academia and international organizations and have first rate detailed knowledge of the issues raised Their approach is policy oriented and they use case studies of Toshiba Toyota Samsung and the Notebook PC Consortium to illustrate the investment strategies of East Asian firms This book will offer insights to scholars and students seeking to understand East Asian and European firms the topics of globalisation and regionalisation It will also appeal to policymakers wishing to influence and understand the strategies of transnational firms    Reader's Guide to the Social Sciences Jonathan Michie,2014-02-03 This 2 volume work includes approximately 1 200 entries in A Z order critically reviewing the literature on specific topics from abortion to world systems theory In addition nine major entries cover each of the major disciplines political economy management and business human geography politics sociology law psychology organizational behavior and the history and development of the social sciences in a broader sense    Regional and Global Multinationals Christoph Czychon,2021-06-29 Based on their ability to facilitate interdependencies across the borders of national and regional markets multinationals enterprises MNEs act as the key drivers of world trade and investment activities While recent global challenges additionally highlight the need to explain and assess the status and progress of internationality regionality previous research renders the concept of firm level globalization as a special but not the general case Christoph Czcyhon dedicates specific attention to the research on regional and global MNEs based on an extensive and rigorous review of the existing academic literature as well as the analysis of 2005 2015 empirical data from the European context with a focus on CAC40 and DAX30 listed firms In doing so the author offers insights and results that stand in contrast to the original narrative of the debate and presents a comprehensive and updated perspective on regional and global MNEs Journal of Economic Literature ,2002 Japanese Multinationals in the Global Economy Paul W. Beamish,Andrew Delios,Donald J. Lecraw,1997 Japanese Multinationals in the Global Economy goes beyond traditional methods of research in international business by providing new simple data comparisons on the global operations of Japanese firms A key aim of this book is to encourage other researchers to explore a new data source and expand and shape their own studies on multinationals This book will be a significant addition to the debate on the behaviour of multinational firms because it avoids the problems and restrictions involved using national government data and individual case studies The book presents key information based on the most extensive samples of multinationals at the subsidiary level using both cross sectional data and data over time The authors provide a direct comparison of US subsidiaries using the established Harvard Multinational Enterprise database and Japanese subsidiaries using the much less well known Toyo Keizai annual data Key features include a summary description of the Toyo Keizai database comparisons of Japanese and US multinationals based on the dates the subsidiaries entered the parent s system annual sales levels and the equity level of the subsidiary the data includes employment levels expatriate management ownership patterns and joint venture ownership structures new data on the performance of Japanese subsidiaries is measured using several dimensions and illustrates important recent trends After each data set the authors briefly discuss the information available pointing the way for new research and more in depth analysis This book will be a vital source for international business researchers and corporate managers as well as government agencies and international organizations concerned with multinational enterprises trade theory and business strategy international economics organizational behaviour and business history International Labour Documentation International Labour Organization. Central Library and Documentation Bureau,1998 Books in Print ,1991 The Struggle for World Markets Gavin Boyd,1998 The Struggle for World Marketsexamines the pattern of deepening integration and imbalances across the Atlantic as the European Union and North America are increasingly linked through high volume trade and expanding transnational production Distinguished authors examine in detail structural policy issues foreign direct investment flows free trade options and the evolution of collaborative arangements between firms especially in high technology sectors The volume explores the possibility of promoting greater links between the European Union and North America It offers assessments of potentials for the formation of new alliances that would strengthen Atlantic economic ties The Struggle for World Markets will be invaluable to policymakers and scholars with an interest in international business international political economy commerce and political science

Direct Investment in Economies in Transition Klaus Meyer, 1998 This in depth analysis of direct investment in transition economies provides not only original insights for economic policy in Central and Eastern Europe but challenges some of the theoretical foundations of the multinational firm Foreign investment is important in promoting economic growth and development and this book examines the determinants of foreign direct investment under the unique conditions of the transition from central planning to market economies It begins by reviewing the business environment and the conditions facing foreign investors and assessing the existing statistical and qualitative evidence Dr Meyer then analyses the theoretical literature and extends this in an empirical analysis investigating the investment decision of firms entering Central and Eastern Europe The book also critically examines transaction cost theory and the theory of the multinational firm under the special conditions of economic transition It points to a reorientation of international business research which will need to focus on firms as organizations rather than firms as substitutes for imperfect markets Direct Investment in Economies in Transition will be essential reading for students and scholars of international business and transition economics It will provide valuable insights for policymakers within the region about the forces driving foreign investment

Euro-Pacific Investment and Trade Gavin Boyd, Alan M. Rugman, 1997 This important book written by leading scholars in international business critically reviews the activities of European and Pacific international firms Transformations of markets and national economic systems associated with the activities of these corporations are posing many issues of adjustment and development and are affecting decisions on long term investments in industrial capacity The book provides a useful framework and source of reference for policy makers in government international agencies and the private sector to address the challenges and opportunities that arise from corporate regional and financial integration of the world economy

Structural Competitiveness in the Pacific Gavin Boyd,1996 Trade and investment liberalization in the Pacific has highlighted the importance of structural competitiveness for both corporate executives and national policymakers In Structural Competitiveness in the Pacific a distinguished group of authors contributes to our understanding of patterns of structural competitiveness affecting trade and production links between East Asia and North America Interaction between national policies and corporate strategies has given East Asian states clear advantages over North American competitors The place of the Pacific in the world economy infrastructures and financial structures in the region American and Japanese structural competitiveness sourcing by Japanese and American multinationals in the Pacific as well as structural interdependencies and the potential for collective management across the region are all addressed in this volume Unlike previous comparative work addressing the decline in American competitiveness Structural Competitiveness in the Pacific takes into account the significance of transnational production by international firms and places US problems in a regional comparative context which includes Japan and the industrializing East Asian states

Taiwanese Firms in Southeast Asia

Thomas F. Aquino,1998 Reviews Taiwanese direct investment in Indonesia Malaysia Thailand the Philippines and Vietnam which expanded rapidly during the middle 1980s when the value of their home currency skyrocketed and they lost their competitive edge at home Points out that unlike with other nationalities there is little correlation between company size and foreign direct investment Concludes that networking underscores the core competitiveness of the firms and they retain close ties when they venture overseas Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
