Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2022-12-30 The Paradox of Planetary Human Entanglements provides a nuanced understanding of the complexity of planetary human entanglements in this age of increased borderisation and territorialisation racism and xenophobia and inclusion and exclusion One of the greatest paradoxes of the 21st century is that of increased planetary human entanglements enabled by globalisation on the one hand and by the rising tide of exclusionary right wing politics of racism xenophobia and the building of walled states on the other The characteristic feature of this paradox is the unrestrained move towards the detention and incarceration of those who attempt to migrate This brings to the fore the issue of borders in terms of their materiality and symbolism and how this mediates belonging citizenship and the ethics or lack thereof and politics of living together This book shows that at the core of border and migration restrictions is the desire to exclude certain categories of people which aptly demonstrates that borders in their materiality are not for everyone but for those who are considered undesirable migrants The authors examine questions of borders nationalism migration immigration and belonging setting the basis of a campaign for planetary humanism grounded on human dignity which transcends ethnicity and nationality This book will be a useful resource for students scholars and researchers of African Studies Border Studies Migration Studies Development Studies International Studies Black Studies International Relations and Political Science Articulating Childhood Trauma Kamayani Kumar, 2024-02-27 The volume addresses the pertinent need to examine childhood trauma revolving around themes of war sexual abuse and disability Drawing narratives from spatial temporal and cultural contexts the book analyses how conflict abuse domestic violence contours of gender construction and narratives of ableism affect a child's transactions with society While exploring complex manifestations of children's experience of trauma the volume seeks to understand the issues related to translatability representation of trauma bearing in mind the fact that children often lack the language to express their sense of loss The book in its study of childhood trauma does a close exegesis of select literary pieces drawings done by children memoirs and graphic narratives Academicians and research scholars from the disciplines of childhood studies trauma studies resilience studies visual studies gender studies cultural studies disability studies and film studies stand to benefit from this volume The ideas that have been expressed in this volume will richly contribute towards further research and scholarship in this domain

Writings About Kashmir Nyla Ali Khan,2022-12-26 Any attempt to homogenize Kashmiri society or the politico cultural discourse on Kashmir is a dangerously flawed exercise To that end the chapters in this book address various aspects of the political cultural and socioeconomic life in Kashmir These chapters are interdisciplinary interventions that could potentially bridge ethnic religiocultural and political divides in the region The book is divided into three sections the first section explores history and memory offering a critical dialogue between these phenomena and fiction The chapters in section two offer a critical dialogue between history politics and gender analyzing historical and political discourses to underscore the agential capacities of Kashmiri women which are traditionally subsumed within masculinist discourse The sole chapter in section three foregrounds the complex relationship between history trauma and poetry Taken together this book is a nuanced attempt at giving readers the opportunity to engage with multiple subjectivities historical understandings and political opinions It will be of interest to general readers scholars and advanced students of Literature Politics History Human Geography and Sociology This book was originally published as a special issue of the South Asian Review

Munnu. Un ragazzo del Kashmir Malik Sajad,2020 Journal of Research (humanities). University of the Punjab,2019 Films and Filming ,1954 Little Boat Boy Jean Bothwell,1945 A story of India and a small boy who lived on a houseboat on a lake in the Himalayas Rhamon, a Boy of Kashmir Heluiz Washburne,1939 A vivid and unusual tale of one of the most beautiful spots in the world the Vale of Kashmir set in the mountainous region of northwestern India A little lame boy named Rhamon unexpectedly finds favor with the Rajah of Kashmiri with the result that the boy's life becomes much more interesting. The different and unusual customs of the Kashmiri people, life on a houseboat, a floating garden, flowers growing on treetops, all will be of particular interest to boys and girls of nine and ten. River Boy of Kashmir Jean Bothwell, 1946. Hafiz, an Indian boy who lived on his father's mat boat on the river Jhelum in Kashmir, goes to the English school as his brother had before him. The poor family has a hard time meeting the school fees, but Hafiz and his brother help solve the pressing problem. Faith and Frenzy K. L. Chowdhury, 2013-06-11. Faith Frenzy is a collection of short stories that brings to the reader the intimate details of forgotten Kashmiris of all hues caught in the quagmire of terror and murky politics. Their stories have remained untold, submerged as they remain under layers of shady rhetoric and politics of deceit. Most, but not all, stories take place in a background of escalating militancy that brought terror, insecurity, and mayhem into the lives of people and dealt a deathblow to the tradition of amity, tolerance, and peaceful living that had defined Kashmiri life over significant periods of history. A unique feature of many of these stories is that they are discovered and revealed through the lens of a doctor who is also a keen observer of a society in flux. The author himself is the narrator of the stories. More importantly, he is also involved as one of the key participants in most of them. His initial contact with the main characters often begins in his role as a physician. He receives them as patients, and while providing his professional services, he finds himself entwined into the intricacies, uncertainties, and struggles of their lives. The stories peep deep into their lives and probe inside their souls. Above all, these are stories of the universal human circumstance. This title is published by Vitasta Publishing Pvt Ltd and is distributed worldwide by Untreed Reads. Lost Childhood: a Perturbing Tale Paradise Kashmir Farooq BAKLOO, 2020-08-03.
