Muslim Fashion Contemporary Style Cultures:

Muslim Fashion Reina Lewis, 2015-10-15 In the shops of London's Oxford Street girls wear patterned scarves over their hair as they cluster around makeup counters. Alongside them hip twenty somethings style their head wraps in high black topknots to match their black boot cut trousers. Participating in the world of popular mainstream fashion often thought to be the domain of the West these young Muslim women are part of an emergent cross faith transnational youth subculture of modest fashion. In treating hijab and other forms of modest clothing as fashion Reina Lewis counters the overuse of images of veiled women as evidence in the prevalent suggestion that Muslims and Islam are incompatible with Western modernity. Muslim Fashion contextualizes modest wardrobe styling within Islamic and global consumer cultures interviewing key players including designers bloggers shoppers store clerks and shop owners. Focusing on Britain North America and Turkey Lewis provides insights into the ways young Muslim women use multiple fashion systems to negotiate religion identity and ethnicity.

Contemporary Muslim Fashions Jill d'Allesandro, Reina Lewis, 2018-10-02 This lavishly illustrated book presents Muslim fashion as an essential part of contemporary style. This dazzling exploration of contemporary Muslim modest dress from historic styles to present day examples accompanies a major exhibition and reveals the enormous range of self expression through fashion achieved by Muslim men and women. Filled with documentary and fashion photography as well as stills from runway shows and the media this book explores the ways Muslim style cultures are shaped by global trends and religious beliefs. From high end couture to streetwear this volume shows how established and diaspora regions such as Dubai Jakarta London and New York are homes to thriving industries that create classic and cutting edge looks. Accompanying these images are essays and personal narratives by leading voices that touch on everything from the history of modest dress to social media. A fascinating examination of a major segment of the fashion industry this book highlights the ingenuity and creativity of Muslim designers and wearers as they deftly navigate the fashion industry while maintaining their religious and cultural identities. Copublished by the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco and DelMonico Books.

British Muslim Women in the Cultural and Creative Industries Saskia Warren, 2022-04-27 Muslim women are opening up new educational and career pathways across the UK pioneering roles in digital media fashion design and visual art. However their contributions to the economy and culture are rarely the focus of media and government reports. Now Saskia Warren draws on in depth fieldwork with British Muslim women working in these roles taking a narrative approach to look at how they frame their own everyday labour experiences. Drawing on interviews focus groups activity diaries and online digital and visual analysis Warren explores how Muslim womanhood is variously celebrated contested resisted and subverted. From negotiating family expectations to encountering prejudice from education providers and employers and from founding businesses to finding ways to respect religion in their creative work these personal insights bring the struggles and successes of British Muslim women creatives to life.
