Mute Speech Jacques Rancière, 2011-11-15 Jacques Rancière has continually unsettled political discourse particularly through his questioning of aesthetic distributions of the sensible which configure the limits of what can be seen and said. Widely recognized as a seminal work in Rancière's corpus, the translation of which is long overdue, Mute Speech is an intellectual tour de force proposing a new framework for thinking about the history of art and literature. Rancière argues that our current notion of literature is a relatively recent creation having first appeared in the wake of the French Revolution and with the rise of Romanticism. In its rejection of the system of representational hierarchies that had constituted belles lettres, literature is founded upon a radical equivalence in which all things are possible expressions of the life of a people. With an analysis reaching back to Plato, Aristotle, the German Romantics, Vico, and Cervantes and concluding with brilliant readings of Flaubert, Mallarmé, and Proust, Rancière demonstrates the uncontrollable democratic impulse lying at the heart of literature's still vital capacity for reinvention.

Politics of Culture and the Spirit of Critique Gabriel Rockhill, 2014 Gabriel Rockhill opens new space for rethinking the relationship between art and politics. Rather than understanding the two spheres as separated by an insurmountable divide or linked by a privileged bridge, Rockhill demonstrates that art and politics are not fixed entities with a singular relation but rather dynamically negotiated sociohistorical practices with shifting and imprecise borders. Radical History and the Politics of Art proposes a significant departure from extant debates on what is commonly called art and politics, and the result is an impressive foray into the force field of history in which cultural practices are meticulously analyzed in their social and temporal dynamism without assuming a conceptual unity behind them. Rockhill thereby develops an alternative logic of history and historical change as well as a novel account of social practices and a multidimensional theory of agency. Engaging with a diverse array of intellectual, artistic, and political constellations, this tour de force diligently maps the various interactions between different dimensions of aesthetic and political practices as they intertwine and sometimes merge in precise fields of struggle.

aesthetic and political practices as they intertwine and sometimes merge in precise fields of struggle      Foucault/Derrida Fifty Years Later Olivia Custer, Penelope Deutscher, Samir Haddad, 2016-11-08 Early in their careers Michel Foucault and Jacques Derrida argued over madness reason and history in an exchange that profoundly influenced continental philosophy and critical theory In this collection Amy Allen Geoffrey Bennington Lynne Huffer Colin Koopman Pierre Macherey Michael Naas and Judith Revel among others trace this exchange in debates over the possibilities of genealogy and deconstruction immanent and transcendent approaches to philosophy and the practical and theoretical role of the archive      Imaginal Politics Chiara Bottici, 2014-05-13 Between the radical creative capacity of our imagination and the social imaginary we are immersed in is an intermediate space philosophers have termed the imaginal populated by images or representations that are presences in themselves Offering a new systematic understanding of the imaginal and its nexus with the political Chiara Bottici brings fresh perspective to the formation of political and power relationships and the paradox of a world rich in imagery yet seemingly devoid of imagination Bottici begins by defining the difference between the imaginal and the imaginary locating the imaginal's root meaning in the image and its ability to both characterize a public and establish a set of activities within that public She identifies the imaginal's critical role in powering representative democracies and its amplification through globalization She then addresses the troublesome increase in images now mediating politics and the transformation of politics into empty spectacle The spectacularization of politics has led to its virtualization Bottici observes transforming images into processes with an uncertain relationship to reality and while new media has democratized the image in a global society of the spectacle the cloned image no longer mediates politics but does the act for us Bottici concludes with politics current search for legitimacy through an invented ideal of tradition a turn to religion and the incorporation of human rights language      Left-Wing Melancholia Enzo Traverso, 2017-01-10 The fall of the Berlin Wall marked the end of the Cold War but also the rise of a melancholic vision of history as a series of losses For the political left the cause lost was communism and this trauma determined how leftists wrote the next chapter in their political struggle and how they have thought about their past since Throughout the twentieth century argues Left Wing Melancholia from classical Marxism to psychoanalysis to the advent of critical theory a culture of defeat and its emotional overlay of melancholy have characterized the leftist understanding of the political in history and in theoretical critique Drawing on a vast and diverse archive in theory testimony and image and on such thinkers as Karl Marx Walter Benjamin Theodor W Adorno and others the intellectual historian Enzo Traverso explores the varying nature of left melancholy as it has manifested in a feeling of guilt for not sufficiently challenging authority in a fear of surrendering in disarray and resignation in mourning the human costs of the past and in a sense of failure for not realizing utopian aspirations Yet hidden within this melancholic tradition are the resources for a renewed challenge to prevailing regimes of historicity a passion that has the power to reignite the dialectic of revolutionary thought      A Political Economy of the Senses Anita Chari, 2015-10-13 Anita Chari revives the concept of reification from Marx and the Frankfurt School to spotlight the resistance to neoliberal capitalism now forming at the level of political economy and at the more sensate experiential level of subjective transformation Reading art by Oliver Ressler Zanny Begg Claire Fontaine Jason Lazarus and Mika Rottenberg as well as the politics of Occupy Wall Street Chari identifies practices through which artists and activists have challenged neoliberalism s social and political logics exposing its inherent tensions and contradictions A Time for Critique Bernard E. Harcourt, Didier Fassin, 2019-09-10 In a world of political upheaval rising inequality catastrophic climate change and widespread doubt of even the most authoritative sources of information is there a place for critique This book calls for a systematic reappraisal of critical thinking its assumptions its practices its genealogy its predicament following the principle that critique can only start with self critique In A Time for Critique Didier Fassin Bernard E Harcourt and a group of eminent political theorists anthropologists sociologists philosophers and literary and legal scholars reflect on the multiplying contexts and forms of critical discourse and on the social actors and social movements engaged in them How can one maintain sufficient distance from the eventful present without doing it an injustice How can one address contemporary issues without repudiating the intellectual legacies of the past How can one avoid the disconnection between theory and action How can critique be both public and collective These provocative questions are addressed by revisiting the works of Foucault and Arendt Said and C saire Benjamin and Du Bois but they are also given substance through on the ground case studies that treat subaltern criticism in Palestine emancipatory mobilizations in Syria the antitorture campaigns of Sri Lankan activists and the abolitionism of the African American critical resistance and undercommons movements in the United States Examining lucidly the present challenges of critique A Time for Critique shows how its theoretical reassessment and its emerging forms can illuminate the imaginative modalities to rejuvenate critical praxis Recognition or Disagreement Axel Honneth, Jacques Rancière, 2016-05-10 Axel Honneth is best known for his critique of modern society centered on a concept of recognition Jacques Rancière has advanced an influential theory of modern politics based on disagreement Underpinning their thought is a concern for the logics of exclusion and domination that structure contemporary societies In a rare dialogue these two philosophers explore the affinities and tensions between their perspectives to provoke new ideas for social and political change Honneth sees modern society as a field in which the logic of recognition provides individuals with increasing possibilities for freedom and is a constant catalyst for transformation Rancière sees the social as a policing order and the political as a force that must radically assert equality Honneth claims Rancière s conception of the political lies outside of actual historical societies and involves a problematic desire for egalitarianism Rancière argues that Honneth s theory of recognition relies on an overly substantial conception of identity and subjectivity While impassioned their exchange seeks to advance critical theory s political project by reconciling the rift between German and French post Marxist traditions and proposing new frameworks for justice Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1990 The Literary World ,1894 The Christian Union ,1888 Ralph ,1980 For Medieval
