The mute Christian under the smarting rod, with sovereign antidotes for every case, or, A Christian with an olive leaf in his mouth Thomas Brooks, 1806

The Mute Christian Under the Smarting Rod Thomas Brooks, 2025-05-30 In this book on suffering the Puritan preacher Thomas Brooks said that the purpose for which it was written was that all suffering Christians would find in it a remedy for every sore and a cure for every spiritual disease He adds then every argument in support of his very comforting words Charles Spurgeon said once to his students at the seminary that Thomas Brooks is one of the clear examples of using holy imagination in a wise and healthy manner He uses gold even in the margins of his books His style is clear and comprehensive he does not cross the line with his illustrations which he uses without losing sight of the doctrine Those rivers of metaphors he uses are always flowing of wise thoughts If you never read any of Brooks books I almost envy you for the joy you will experience when you will read them for the first time This book has been originally published in 1659 The current edition has been proofread typeset for eBook readers and slightly updated for modern readers

Kings are not bound to give their subjects a reason of their doings and shall we bind God to give us a reason of his doings who is the King of kings and Lord of Lords and whose will is the true and only rule of justice The general grounds and reasons which God has laid down in his word why he afflicts his people as that is for their profit for the purging away of their sins for the reforming of their lives and for the saving of their souls should work them to be silent and satisfied under all their afflictions though God should never satisfy their curiosity in giving them an account of some more hidden causes which may lie secret in the abysses of his eternal knowledge and infallible will It is important for Christians to remember this thing shall we bind God to give us a reason of his doings and simply thank God for our days Faith is strengthened in our following and doing not questioning
