Green Indicators to Inform Circular Economy under Climate Change, 2nd edition Muhlis Can, Bodo Sturm, Jan Brusselaers, 2025-10-10 The obstacle of climate change is among the major concerns that mankind is experiencing today. Climate change poses remarkable risks to the planet and human health such as extreme weather conditions, unpredictable rain fall, decreasing of agricultural productivity and lack of food. Thus we need to find solutions to protect the environment and to maintain sustainable development. To do that it is important to detect the impact of social and economic parameters on environmental outcomes such as economic structure, trade volume and value, human capital, education, globalization, green economy and economic complexity. In this collection we aim to expand our knowledge about the relationship between environment and different social and economic indicators which will provide us knowledge to make reliable and long term plans. Under these circumstances we need to identify the parameters that impact the environment both positively and negatively. Additionally there is need that we prepare long term plans to maintain technological, social and economic development for a sustainable ecology and biological life. Thanks to this Research Topic we aim to expand our knowledge about the potential micro and macro determinants of environmental quality and sustainable development such as economic activities, green economic and growth indicators, specifically with respect to developments in green economy, green trade, green finance and green innovation as they pertain to circular economy and changing economic complexity.
