incorporating the perspective of postcolonial European populations into these spaces This book includes contributions from leading experts in their fields and represents a comparative trans historical and transcolonial examination which contextualises and reinterprets to the legacies and experiences of European museums This book was published as a special issue of Africa and Black Diaspora An International Journal Artifacts and Allegiances Peggy Levitt, 2015-07-07

What can we learn about nationalism by looking at a country's cultural institutions How do the history and culture of particular cities help explain how museums represent diversity Artifacts and Allegiances takes us around the world to tell the compelling story of how museums today are making sense of immigration and globalization Based on firsthand conversations with museum directors curators and policymakers descriptions of current and future exhibitions and inside stories about the famous paintings and iconic objects that define collections across the globe this work provides a close up view of how different kinds of institutions balance nationalism and cosmopolitanism By comparing museums in Europe the United States Asia and the Middle East Peggy Levitt offers a fresh perspective on the role of the museum in shaping citizens Taken together these accounts tell the fascinating story of a sea change underway in the museum world at large A New Role for Museum Educators Elizabeth Wood, 2023-06-26

A New Role for Museum Educators shows how learning happens in communities how volunteers and professionals approach their work the underlying principles and philosophies that guide the work of museum education and how these practices are always evolving to remain relevant Museum education in its most expansive definition is about communicating messages creating learning experiences and at its most aspirational promoting human development for people of all backgrounds abilities and circumstances This edited volume revisits the legacy of museum education practices reflecting on the changing context of community and the role of cultural institutions and provides insights into new directions that museums can take with a visitor centered mindset It provides foundational concepts around educational philosophies that guide practice applied methods and approaches for implementation and the ethos of an educational institution intended to support community learning and engagement that are essential to provide for the wide ranging needs of all audiences International perspectives from a variety of museums are considered including art museums children's museums history museums and historic sites science museums botanical gardens zoos and aquariums Chapters include thought provoking reflections on contemporary practices concrete examples from across the globe and useful tools for anyone working with public audiences Grounded in practice and informed by research this volume will be a go to resource for arts and cultural organization practitioners particularly those working in Museum Education It will also be essential reading for students of Museum Studies Education and related fields Museums in Arabia Karen Exell, Sarina Wakefield, 2016-05-12

Museum activity has in recent years undergone major and rapid development in the Arabian Peninsula with the regeneration of existing museums as well as the establishment of new ones Alongside such rapid expansion questions are inevitably raised as to the new challenges museums face in this region and whether the museum as a central focus of heritage preservation also runs the risk of overshadowing local forms of heritage performance and preservation. With contributions from leading academics from a range of disciplines and heritage practitioners with first hand experience of working in the region this volume addresses the issues and challenges facing museums in Kuwait Saudi Arabia Qatar Yemen and the UAE. It focuses on the themes of politics public engagement and the possibility of a new museum paradigm which might appropriately reflect the interests and culture of the region. The interdisciplinary approaches analyse museum development from both an inside and outside perspective suggesting that museums do not follow a uniform trajectory across the region but are embedded within each states socio cultural context individual government agendas and political realities. Including case study analysis which brings the more marginal nations into the debates as well as new empirical data and critical evaluation of the role of the museum in the Arabian Peninsula societies this book adds fresh perspectives to the study of Gulf heritage and museology. It will appeal to regional and international practitioners and academics across the disciplines of museum studies cultural studies and anthropology as well as to anyone with an interest in the Gulf and Middle East.

Palgrave Handbook of Research in Historical Culture and Education Mario Carretero, Stefan Berger, Maria Grever, 2017-03-07 This volume comprises a broad interdisciplinary examination of the many different approaches by which contemporary scholars record our history. The editors provide a comprehensive overview through thirty eight chapters divided into four parts: a Historical Culture and Public Uses of History b The Appeal of the Nation in History Education of Postcolonial Societies c Reflections on History Learning and Teaching d Educational Resources Curricula Textbooks and New Media. This unique text integrates contributions of researchers from history education collective memory museum studies heritage social and cognitive psychology and other social sciences stimulating an interdisciplinary dialogue. Contributors come from various countries of Northern and Southern America Europe and Asia providing an international perspective that does justice to the complexity of this field of study. The Palgrave Handbook of Research in Historical Culture and Education provides state of the art research focussing on how citizens and societies make sense of the past through different ways of representing it.

Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions. But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies. Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention. One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice. Doing Museology Differently charts a different course. A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork. A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice. The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation
