Broken into three parts, Part One establishes the public institutional framework in which financial services are conducted, defines financial service systems, critically examines the link between finance, wealth and income inequality and economic growth challenges conventional paradigms about the raison d'être of financial institutions and markets and considers the loss of US financial hegemony to emerging regional entities BRICS. Part Three assesses to what extent financial innovation has disrupted legacy banking and the delivery of financial services, identifies the main obstacles to reconstructing the whole financial system based upon first principles thinking, Nation State regulation and incumbent interests of multi-national companies and provides a cursory description of how the pandemic of COVID 19 may establish a new normal for the financial services industry.
