Day of Reckoning Power and Accountability in Medieval France applies recent approaches to literacy legal studies memory ritual and the manorial economy to reexamine the transformation of medieval power Highlighting the relationship of archives and power it draws on the rich documentary sources of five of the largest Benedictine monasteries in northern France and Flanders with comparisons to others over a period of nearly four centuries The book opens up new perspectives on important problems of power in particular the idea and practice of accountability In a violent society medieval lords tried to delegate power rather than share it to get their men to prosecute justice or raise money legitimately rather than through extortion and pillage Robert F Berkhofer III explains how subordinates were held accountable by abbots administering the extensive holdings of Saint Bertin Saint Denis Saint Germain des Pr s Saint P re de Chartres and Saint Vaast d Arras As the abbots began to discipline their agents and monitor their conduct the day of reckoning took on new meaning as customary meeting days were used to hold agents accountable By 1200 written and unwritten techniques of rule developed in the monasteries had moved into the secular world in these practices lay the origins of administration bureaucratic power and governance all hallmarks of the modern state
