Modes of Address in Contemporary Film Musicals Amelie Meyer, 2020-04-07 Master's Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject American Studies Miscellaneous grade 1.0 University of Göttingen Philosophische Fakultät language English abstract At the beginning of the year 2010 movie critic Bob Mondello triumphantly declared It's going to be another musical decade noting the way the previous ten years have prompted a movie musical resurgence paving the road for a bright music filled future When looking at the history of musicals over the course of time this does not always seem to be the case In spite of the fact that the film musical was an audience favorite during its Golden Age era 1927 until the mid 1950s and celebrating great successes such as 42nd Street 1933 or

Singin in the Rain 1952 it seems to have deteriorated in quality and reputation Since recent movie musicals apparently have hit a different more successful nerve with audiences the question is why the genre now sees an uplift in box office numbers Which elements of recent movie musicals keep audiences glued to the screen How do they work in tapping into audiences emotions prompting them to participate This thesis will be influenced by the methodology of reception study scholar Janet Staiger Staiger's 1992 Interpreting Film Studies in the Historical Reception of American Cinema and Perverse Spectators 2000 reconsider the way audiences make sense of films With her historical materialist approach taking into account all traces of audiences interacting with filmic material she sets out to find an understanding of why certain films prove to be successful with audiences at certain times Kemper She investigates the modes of address and exhibition establishes the identities and interpretative strategies and tactics brought by spectators to the cinema and acknowledges cultural groups such as fans who produce their own conventionalized modes of reception 23 emphasis in original It is the purpose of this thesis then to take up the approach of looking at the contact zone Kemper between films and audiences in order to investigate filmic addresses fostering audience engagement In doing so an assortment of recent film musicals that have achieved considerable box office success including Moulin Rouge Across the Universe Hairspray and Mamma Mia will be analyzed with regard to particular addresses picked up by audiences thereby creating the event of movie going The central question investigated here then asks Which elements of a particular film are focused on by critical reports and how do these elements shape the movie going experience participation and engagement of viewers Media Reception Studies Janet Staiger,2005-07 A broad survey on how audiences make meaning out of mass media Media Reception Studies broadly surveys the past century of scholarship on the ways in which audiences make meaning out of mass media It synthesizes in plain language social scientific linguistic and cultural studies approaches to film and television as communication media Janet Staiger traverses a broad terrain covering the Chicago School early psychological approaches Soviet theory the Frankfurt School mass communication research and critical theory linguistics and semiotic theory social psychoanalytical research cognitive psychology and cultural studies She offers these theories as a set of tools for understanding the complex relationships between films and their audiences TV shows and their viewers She explains such questions as the behavior of fans the implications of gender sexuality and race ethnicity with regard to the media the effect of violence horror and sexually explicit images on viewers and the place of memory in spectatorship Providing an organized and lucid introduction to a staggering amount of work Media Reception Studies is an indispensable resource for anyone interested in understanding the effects of mass media The Place of the Audience Mark Jancovich,Lucy Faire,Sarah Stubbings,2003-04-28 It has been a recurring complaint both within and against film studies that it has largely ignored the activities of audiences This book aims to address this absence as compared to television studies and to explain its cause The authors argue that there is a social context in which the consumption of film can be understood or studied historically demonstrating that a concentration on the place of film consumption within the changing cultural politics of the city can offer a compelling and productive focus of analysis This book examines not only the different meanings of different sites of film exhibition and distribution city centre cinemas local cinemas art house cinemas multiplexes terrestrial television transmission video rental and retail and satellite cable but also the meanings of the activities of film consumption associated with these sites Through use of archival materials and ethnographic studies of the audience the book examines the meanings of film consumption from the earliest film showings up to the 21st century The Soviet and Post-Soviet Review ,2013 Schirmer Encyclopedia of Film Barry Keith Grant,2007 This reference source covers all aspects of the cinema including film history production national cinemas genre theory and criticism and cultural contexts

Performative Histories, Foundational Fictions Anu Koivunen,2003 Anu Koivunen analyses the historicity as well as the intertextuality and intermediality of film reception by focusing on a cycle of Finnish family melodrama and its key role in thinking about gender sexuality nation and history Koivunen argues that the Niskavuori films have mobilised readings in terms of history and memory feminist nationalism and men s movement left wing allegories and right wing morality as well as realism and melodrama The Phobic and the Erotic Brinda Bose,Subhabrata Bhattacharyya,2007 The first comprehensive assessment of the diverse sexual practices of India transsexual homosexual and heterosexual Watching the Lord of the Rings Ernest Mathijs,2008 How did audiences across the world respond to the films of The Lord of the Rings This book presents findings from the largest film audience project ever undertaken drawing from 25 000 questionnaire responses and a wide array of other materials Contributors use these materials to explore a series of widely speculated questions why is film fantasy important to different kinds of viewers Through marketing previews and reviews debates and cultural chatter how are audiences prepared for a film like this How did fans of the book respond to its adaptation on screen How do people choose their favorite characters How was the films reception shaped by different national and cultural contexts The answers to these questions shed fresh light on the extraordinary popularity of The Lord of the Rings and provide important new insights into the global reception of cinema in the twenty first century Sex and the Goddess Jessica Hope Jordan,2008 issues about the perception of it as an oppositional form of cinema and of its strained relationships to mainstream cinema and the processes of institutionalisation and classification. Claims that the history of academic film studies and that of cult movie fandom are inextricably intertwined and raises fundamental questions about both cult movies themselves and film studies as a discipline. Updates work on cult movies at a time when cult films and TV have become a central part of contemporary culture. Ranges over the full and entertaining gamut of cult films from Dario Argento Spanish horror and Peter Jackson's New Zealand gorefests to sexploitation kung fu and sci fi flicks as well investigations of Sharon Stone underground and trivia.

Iconographies of Power Ulla Haselstein, Berndt Ostendorf, Peter Schneck, 2003. Today the question of iconography has taken on a new and more general urgency. As a dominant cultural practice iconography embraces the politics as well as the poetics of visual representation within their specific historical and cultural conditions. In its contemporary significance the question of iconography moreover reaches beyond disciplinary boundaries of conventional definitions and interpretations of the relation between words and images in a demand to critically compare and contrast their different iconographies as cultural practices of power. In their distinct arguments and from different perspectives the essays collected in this volume are all similarly concerned with the iconographical power and poetics of the image including a broad range of visual representations prints and illustrations painting sculpture and concept art documentary and art photography film comedy and digital imagery. In all these instances the image is looked at not as an exclusive and isolated phenomenon but rather emphatically as a visual and contextual event as both the source and target of the collision and the collusion of word and image as instances and symptoms of contemporary iconographic practice alike. With contributions by Winfried Fluck, Mario Klarer, Mick Gidley, Douglas Tallack, Heinz Ickstadt, Peter Schneck, Maren Stange, Hanne Loreck, Zsofia Ban, Susanne v. Falkenhausen, Deniz Gokturk, Wendy Steiner, Hanjo Berressem, Kaja Silverman, Michael Wetzel. Regarding Frank Capra, Eric Loren Smoodin, 2004. From feature films to television production.
