What is NAPLAN?

NAPLAN stands for 'The National Assessment Program - Literacy and Numeracy'. NAPLAN is a standard test that all students in years 3, 4 and 5 sit.

A standardised test is a test that is the same for everyone. There are timing rules and marking rules. Tests are designed to:

It designed test is a test that measures students on their prior knowledge and what they are already do.

Why Must We Sit the NAPLAN Test?

NAPLAN provides your teacher and school with information about what skills you have. It tells your teacher which essential skills you already have and which skills you need to develop.

NAPLAN also provides your school with important information about the academic abilities of its students so that they can make decisions about what is taught at school and why.

NAPLAN is also used to compare information with other schools and find the patterns and outcomes.
