M.,1873    Dunedin Christine Johnston,2003-11

Dunedin's remarkable literary heritage is founded on Charles Brasch who presided over the nation's literature from his Dunedin home for many years as the editor of Landfall on James K Baxter arguably New Zealand's greatest poet and on internationally celebrated novelist Janet Frame. It is an impressive record for a small city and all three are represented in Christine Johnston's lively anthology of Dunedin writing. Also featured are works by well known poets and memorists Brian Turner, Ruth Dallas and Alistair Campbell and by a new generation of writers that includes Paula Boock and Emma Neale. This rich collection is a delight from beginning to end and will satisfy the most demanding reader. The Our City series offers a new perspective on New Zealand's major cities. Each volume presents a selection of the literature inspired by one of New Zealand's four major cities. Chosen with care by a well known editor from each city the selections include short stories, poems and extracts from novels and writers' memoirs. Each contributor whether contemporary or historical has a strong association with the city concerned and every selection has something significant to say about the character of the city. Together they create a vivid picture of what makes the city unique.

Our Darlings: the Children's Treasury of Pictures & Stories T.J. Barnardo, 1890      The Academy and Literature, 1887      The Irish Storyteller Georges Denis Zimmermann, 2001 Supported by documents many of which were not readily available or have never been published before this book studies images of the Irish traditional storyteller offered at different periods from several viewpoints and for various purposes. Invariables changes ruptures and the effect of conflicting attitudes and ideologies are identified. Contextualized in Irish history and on the wider European scene this huge book explores the testimony of early antiquarians accounts of meetings with storytellers by 18th or 19th century travelers representations of acts of elite storytelling in ancient Irish literature or of popular ones in oral tradition itself and in fiction in English attention is given to the works of Maria Edgeworth, Lady Morgan, the Banim brothers and Griffin Carleton. Lover Le Fanu, Somerville and Ross, Yeats, Synge, George Moore and Joyce and some more recent authors. The evolution of the aims and methods of folklorists from the Romantic Age to the institutionalization of collecting and to modern ethnographic projects and the links between definitions of folklore and cultural nationalism are investigated as are the complex relationships between storytelling history and truth and the concepts of Irishness and tradition. Another section tries to establish what is known of actual storytelling in the 19th century and in the first half of the 20th the tellers training their techniques and conception of tradition their status the etiquette of performance and the role of the audience. Themes and formal characteristics of different kinds of oral narratives are examined.
